Introduction

Hierarchical Astrology?

‘Hierarchical’ is a reference to the Hierarchical rulership essential dignity, which adds the dimension of ‘time’, and ‘spirit’ (see page 62). Since this book deals with the element of time and spirit I found it most fitting. Namely it deals with Ophiuchus, the magnetic Eather, the sidereal precession, unfoldment and transition of the Age of Pisces to the Age of Aquarius, planets, signs and constellations since creation and their unfoldment in the future of humanity, religion, politics and much more. This is esoteric astrology however, and Alice Baileys conceptual framework is the foundation for this book, and foremost in inspiring the explorations that led to it.

The unique distinction of this book is its innovations and new theories.

They are:

1. Defines exactly what Ophiuchus and the Magnetic Eather is.
2. Defines what the Spirit, Soul, Innermost and Outermost is.
3. Define how the Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost express differently through both genders.
4. Concretises the benefic, neutral and enemy planets for each sign when expressed through the Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost.
5. Uses a 'Number System' for Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermosts relation to the biological chakras.
6. Defines the essential dignities using 6 total dimensions.
7. Creates the retrograde and stationary formulas, transforming essential dignities.
8. Defines the elemental correspondences.
9. Incorporates the 2 additions of Black Sun and Black Moon to the 7 Rays.
10. Defines 'Black' and 'White' light and its four astrological applications (essential dignities, signs, planets, conscious/unconsciousness).
11. Defines the ways in which geography (Northern vs Southern, Eastern vs Western Hemispheres) and the earth astrologically influences humanity
12. Defines the societal, political, cultural, religious, anthropological and biological changes of the Age of Aquarius.

13. Defines the 'exclusively female' status of Aquarius, and the transition to a matriarchy in the Age of Aquarius.

14. Provides a definite, step-by-step method to determine ones astral, mental and Innermost charts.

15. Differentiates and defines Planetary dignities and Biological (chakra) dignities

16. Defines the most definitive masculine sign.

17. Merges the idea of the astro (planets, signs, stars) and man (chakras), and how these interact and intersect with chakra personality types.

18. Defines each chakra personality types strong, neutral and enemy planets

19. Defines each chakras strong, neutral and enemy status for each personality type using the Number system.

20. Defines the concept of a 'birth planet' and a 'home planet' and defines the difference for all chakras and emanations

21. Translates birth and name numerology to biological chakras.

22. Defines the chakra and planetary number correspondences

23. Creates the 'The Spiritual, Innermost and Outermost' Urges for name numerology, providing the formula

24. Creates the Soul, Spiritual, Innermost and Outermost urges for astrological chart numerology, providing the formula.

25. Creates the correct method for using Master numbers in the astrological charts, and how it applies to the Soul, Spiritual, Innermost and Outermost Urges.

26. Explains what ones 'star-seed' truly is, and what it is determined by.

27. Explains how one can analyse oneself and others through astrology, numerology and personality psychology

These were created out of necessity for they're realities I could find nowhere (at all, in depth or established unanimous precedence).

Chapter 1 - Ophiuchus

Disclaimer: This chapter is seeking to comprehend exactly what Ophiuchus is, that is all. I would certainly hate to lead individuals into the state where only the weeping and gnashing of teeth are heard. The following exposition on Ophiuchus laid out in specific astronomical, numerological, mathematical, scientific, and many other terms, is currently absent in our world.

'Ophiuchus'?

Ophiuchus is a constellation in Scorpio, from 14- 29 degrees, where 0-13 degrees remains Scorpio (the water sign). Its constellation is a man holding (some interpret it as wrestling, or attempting to control) a serpent. Ophiuchus expresses the 3rd (Intellect) and 6th (Devotion) Rays, having the unique distinction (alongside Sagittarius) of expressing a combination of odd and even numbered Rays. Ophiuchus' element is magnetic Eather. It is called 'light' in Eastern Esotericism, but it's magnetic Eather, that omnipresent substance permeating the entire universe. Ophiuchus exists only in the sidereal chart; it does not exist in the Tropical chart. Therefore, Ophiuchus exists only for the sidereal consciousness portion (the vast majority) of humanity. While it is the '13th addition', Ophiuchus is not the '13th sign'. Rotating clockwise from Aries, Ophiuchus is the 9th sign.

Ophiuchus Symbol

Ophiuchus' 'U' symbol is very clearly a standard magnet, symbolic that Ophiuchus attracts, harvests and channels the element of magnetism. 'U' is also symbolic for the individual 'you', for it is you who wrestles with that serpent everyday your entire life, wittingly, or unwittingly. U (21st letter of alphabet) numerologically translates to the number 3 (3 being 21s single number reduction), and is therefore suggestive of the Trinity in its diverse applications or its specific 3rd application- the Holy Spirit. The 'serpent' is the electric fire, or 'kundalini' serpent within that must be transmuted to Eather.

Ophiuchus is qualitatively unique in perception:

Fixed (Conscious duality)- Leo, Aquarius, Scorpio, Taurus

Cardinal (Conscious Unity)- Aries, Libra, Cancer, Capricorn

Mutable (Unconscious Unity)- Sagittarius, Gemini, Pisces, Virgo

Immutable (Unconscious Duality)- Ophiuchus

'Immutable'?

Ophiuchus perceives eternal, timeless conceptual principles underlying ever changing consciousness (sacred) or material (non-sacred) stimuli through unconscious duality.

It is worth, when contemplating the mysteries and dynamics governing the universe, examining how unconscious duality expressed through dynamic magnetic motion is the creational force and Immutable law operating through, and governing the entire universe.

"The only constant in life is change".

-Heraclitus

More on Eather?

Eather is magnetism, 'motion', the quintessence (5th essence/element), and is likely- the creative materials of creation, the Ein Sof, the radiational longitudinal wave, Tao, hyperspace, the Divine hand moving through all things. Everything material (Earth) we perceive is simply a densified form of Eather. Thus, Earther (Father Earth, Divine masculine) arises from Eather (Mother Sky, Divine feminine).

5 Elements (in true ordering)

Eather

Fire

Air

Water

Earth

Eather is the 5th (quint) element (essence).

Formula: Earth is Eather in its lowest expression, and Eather is earth in its highest. The elements below Eather (fire, air, water, earth) are varied expressions based on Eathers capacitance.

Brain hemispheres elemental correspondence:

Right-Hemisphere- Eather, Water, Air

A chart heavy in Eather, water, and air would result in an individual predominantly perceiving from the right brain hemisphere. Equally and oppositely, a chart heavy in fire and earth would be predominately perceiving from the individuals left-hemisphere.

Which Chart may Ophiuchus appear?

Each individual has 4 astrological charts reflecting different facets of his consciousness, originating from a singular, precise temporal instance.

4 charts?

4 Astrological Charts

around you. The astral is a portal/ gateway to entities of the astral world, yes, those tenebrous elementals, demons, and many other beings. It is therefore related to and tapped into by mediums and psychics.

Mental/ Conception (Ment El)- Comprehending the Divine mind, the application of the Hermetic principle that 'All is Mind' (Mentalism). This is the true source and place of Genius and thinking with the third Logos (Divine logic in the 3rd chart).

Innermost/Seminal release- Still, silent voice that can rise above the chaos and consider all, deciding through executive function, 'knowing without intellection', tapping into Divine immaterial intuition, inner guidance, Divinity within.

Furthermore, Ophiuchus can express through any of the 12 main planets, they are: Moon, Mercury, Venus, Sun, Vulcan, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto. Ophiuchus can appear in any of these planets in retrograde, stationary or direct motions. Therefore, this entails 36 distinct essential dignity expressions in just the natal birth chart (through direct, stationary and retrograde motions), and 144 across all 4 astrological charts all expressing and manifesting through ones consciousness. Furthermore, through the firmament above, there are many more planets than the 12 listed that directly influence the consciousness of humanity. The fixed stars, galaxies, comets, dwarf planets are completely separate categories of celestial influences, but there are also many more planets themselves. In many of these, therefore, Ophiuchus manifests, having a profound influence on humanity.

Ophiuchus, exclusively female?

Ophiuchus is a composite sign of both masculine (3rd Ray, Intellect) and feminine (6th Ray, Devotion) Rays. It is thus equal parts of masculine and feminine. This in itself may therefore be classified as 'androgynous', but it does not actually have the 4th androgynous Ray of physical development. However, referencing the essential Dignity of exaltation, that supreme essential dignity (beyond the rulers and joys), it is predominantly female, since Uranus (sacred feminine 7th Ray of Illumination), and Black Moon Lilith (non-sacred feminine 5th Ray, concrete Science/Truth) are exalted in it. However, since Jupiter (st) (masculine sacred 2nd Ray of love/Wisdom) is exalted in it too, it is again, a composite of feminine and masculine with no androgenicity. It's worthy to note, some Ancient Astrologers posited that Ophiuchus archetypally aligns most with Jupiter, since that sacred planet radiates magnetism (Ophiuchus' element), and through channelling the sacred 2nd Ray of Wisdom, chronologically links this crucial Ray to Ophiuchus inherent Intellect (3rd Ray), providing much needed Wisdom to complement Ophiuchus Eatheric intellectual capacity. However, Uranus also adds a sacred linkage of the 6th (Devotion) and 7th (Illumination) Rays, and Black Moon Lilith adds a non-sacred (material) linkage of 5th (Truth, concrete Science) and 6th (Devotion) Rays. Thus, while Jupiter radiates Ophiuchus element, amplifying Eatheric magnetism, the feminine planets (feminine since they express exclusively feminine Rays) have a 3-fold, all-encompassing expression of the entire range of the feminine Rays (5th, 6th and 7th) chronologically succeeding one another. Thus, again it can be said to be predominantly, but not entirely female. It can therefore be inferred in application to Ophiuchus' distributive expression on earth, that the 2nd (Wisdom), 5th (Truth/Science), and 7th (Illumination) Rays are the most (having the highest dignity of exaltation) pertinent to Ophiuchus' earthly expression. However, there is one aspect through which Eather (the element, not Ophiuchus the sign) is androgynous, since it contains both the capacity to manifest itself as all the elements. That is, the masculine (fire, earth), feminine (Eather, air) and androgynous (water) elements. It also has the ability to express through the differing brain hemispheres in man throughout these elements, remembering that water, air and Eather are right-hemispheric, and fire and earth are left-hemispheric. Therefore, its androgenicity is in its expressive transmutation to manifest as all the elements, encompassing all gender and activating differing brain hemispheres in humanity. This would then suggest that the Sun, Jupiter, and the Descendant are the most androgynous planets/forces and therefore corresponding centres of consciousness in man since they all radiate magnetic Eather.

Ophiuchus element Eather is categorised as feminine due to its scientific expression as motion, magnetism, the radiational longitudinal wave and its Ancient Egyptian deification as 'Ma'at, the feminine goddess'.

Note- Ophiuchus' constellation is a Man, holding a universally recognized (as part of many fractal symbolic interpretations) phallic symbol (snake/Serpent). Ophiuchus' historical mythology centres around a man discovering the key to Immortality and being killed for teaching and sharing it, for it went against the greater good. Though admittedly, he was (in a sense) rewarded and immortalised by being instantiated as a constellation and having a profound influence on sidereal humanity.

Stationary signs

When seeking to determine the most important planets, the stationary exaltation sign is the most important. This is because 'stationary' (non-existent) motion, means by definition it's that planets purest expression, uninfluenced and unaffected by directional movement. This pure stillness lasts only 1-2 days and is thus the rarest in being present in any of the astrological charts in humanity.

Exaltation signs for Stationary planets:

Mercury- Capricorn

Venus- Cancer

Mars- Taurus

Jupiter- Ophiuchus/Scorpio

Saturn- Aquarius

Uranus and Black Moon Lilith- Pisces

Mercury and Pluto- Gemini

Note- Sagittarius, Aries, and Virgo do not exalt in a stationary planet since Moon, Earth and Sun do not go stationary, and they do not exalt in the 12 main consciousness dominating planets. Vulcan is excluded from analysis.

Decoding the Serpent Bearer

'9' is a deeply significant number in numerology. It relates to the mark of the beasts (666) single number reduction. The mark of the beast is associated with man (mark of the beast being the 'number of man') and therefore the symbol of Ophiuchus. It also relates to Ophiuchus' place in the zodiacal wheel (being the 9th sign). The moral ambiguity of the 'serpent' archetype, replete throughout ancient biblical, and occult literature expresses itself in diverse ways. There is the 'tempting serpent' in Eden that tempted Eve and made both Adam and Eve 'fall', leading to their expulsion from Eden. There is also the bronze serpent that healed the Israelites in the desert. The 'serpent' itself has (in some instances) been identified with the 'Seraphim'. So, perhaps Ophiuchus and its element of Eatheric magnetism is intimately related and supremely important to the higher transcendent order of beings (beyond the humans 'Hierarchy' status). The serpent itself is universally considered symbolic of wisdom and healing. Supporting this, those with Ophiuchus placements tend to be seekers of wisdom and occult knowledge. Mythologically, Ophiuchus is associated with Prometheus, and the Archangel Michael and Samael. Ophiuchus also has the symbolic archetypal trait for healing and, inherent to its elemental and biological expression, magnetic charisma (which is in stark contrast to the biological sidereal state). Ophiuchus's Rays (3rd and 6th) sum to 9, forming a symmetrical 369. As stated, this sum is its precise chronological placement in the zodiac (9th sign), and these two 9s together sum to the reduction of the mark of the beast ($6+6+6=18$, being further reduced to $1+8=9$). Its sacred planetary exaltations (Uranus, Jupiter) Rays of 7th and 2nd Rays sum to 9. Thus, Ophiuchus on 3 significant levels, corresponds to 9, and can therefore be numerologically denoted (and potentially scientifically) as 999, the inversion of 666. Since 666 relates to, and refers to matter (earth), and Eather, symbolised by 999 is the inversion of earth/matter (666), this precisely corresponds with Eathers inversion of earth. Furthermore, the (vertically) inverted visual transcription of 6 is 9, and vice versa.

Scientific explanation for 666 and 999?

Matter is composed of 6 protons, 6 neutrons, and 6 electrons. Therefore, matter is fundamentally and inherently defined (not symbolically, but literally) by 666. So, 999 may very well be equally the chemical formula for Eather. This would mean Eather contains 9 protons, 9 neutrons, 9 electrons. This certainly consolidates the notion that Eather is 'higher frequency' than earth (matter). With the repetitions of 3 lots of 6s and 9s, one is reminded of Teslas statement that the secrets of the universe can be found in 3, 6 and 9. This is self-evident since Eather, that element that is entirely (visually, in our 3-dimensional material world) hidden, is omnipresent, permeating All, and its invisible (to our limited perception) status makes it the secret governing and operating through the entire universe.

"The Tao is like a well: used but never used up.

It is like the eternal void: filled with infinite possibilities.

It is hidden but always present."

-Tao Te Ching, Laozi.

(Note the Tao Te Ching has 81 verses)

Was Eather discovered?

It appears that ancient civilisations and their technologies were underpinned and relied entirely on an invisible, unlimited, and free power source. This power source was ten billion times more powerful than modern finite, environmentally destructive electricity. This power source was harvested from the air, and that was Eather. This element is what the spire on top of churches were transmitting and receiving and ancient church organs with huge pipes were magnetically vibrating. Indeed, the word 'spire' denotes that which 'inspires', that source of 'inspiration' and 'inhalation' distributed to, and collected from the attendees in church, and Eatheric magnetism, Ophiuchus' element was what the spire was funnelling. Note-nearly every church has an extremely thin spire on the top of their structures

The Emerald Tablet of Hermes and Eather

"8) With great capacity it ascends from earth to heaven. Again, it descends to earth, and takes back the power of the above and the below.

9) Thus you will receive the glory of the distinctiveness of the world. All obscurity will flee from you.

10) This is the whole most strong strength of all strength, for it overcomes all subtle things, and penetrates all solid things."

‘Eather the Father’?

If we remove the lowest horizontal line of ‘Eather’

We get

‘Father’,

Our ‘Father who art in heaven’.

Nein?

9?

Is it any coincidence that one of the most sacred words (that overcomes being scared in our world) in language of ‘no’ also corresponds to the chronological zodiacal position, the chemical numerical structural description, and the sum of the expressionary Rays of the omnipresent substance of life, Eather?

Furthermore, consider the phrase ‘Your heart is weighed against a feather’.

Feather

F Eather

Your heart is weighed against the Eather.

If you accept light (visuality) into your being your heart will be light (weight).

'F' is translated to the number 6 (being 6th letter of the alphabet) representing matter, so 'Feather' refers to the matter of Eather, since Eather can be quantitatively measured and weighed. Yes, it is that loss of weight immediately following death, universally measured and reported extensively by the Scientific community worldwide. In Ancient Egyptian mythology, the weighing of the heart against a feather occurred in the underworld. The feather represented Ma'at, the goddess of Truth and justice, whose role was to maintain order in the universe. The heart was considered the seat of the 'life Spirit'. This therefore implies that the heart is the seat of magnetic Eather and Eather itself was deified as the feminine goddess Ma'at.

What are you saying?

Eather is the fabric and vessel housing your Soul inhabiting the body in incarnation. Furthermore, your Soul itself is Eather.

Further Ophiuchus planetary correspondences

Ophiuchus was linked with the Sun, and therefore the Sun's most universally dignified (behind Aries exaltation) simultaneous exoteric, esoteric, and Hierarchical rulership position of Leo.

Why the Sun?

This is simply an acknowledgement that Ophiuchus' element, magnetic Eather, is that which the Sun (and Suns behind it) ultimately radiate from source. Yes, there is the implication that Ophiuchus transmits that energy from the Prime creator making it available to receive and draw from for our consciousness.

Is Ophiuchus the only source of magnetic Eather?

Eather, Father, 'Pater', 'Ju piter' (the counterpart of Mother, matter, matrix, the earth element, Moon) is that Eatheric element Jupiter, the Sun and the Spirit (Descendant) transmits, and humanity acts as a receptacle. So, even without an Ophiuchus sign in their chart, all have access to the (beneficial) influence of Eather. This magnetic power is the secret to his, and all the gods immortality. According to the myth, this is why Jupiter had Ophiuchus killed, and rendered into a constellation, because his use of Eather violated Jupiters planetary function (remembering Jupiter is exalted in stationary Scorpio and Ophiuchus) of 'the greater good' in application to the evolution of humanity at that time period. Ophiuchus was obliterated by a thunderbolt (electricity symbolizing anger and wrath) and constellationally influences all of humanity through sidereal (not Tropical) immutable unconscious duality, inspiring and guiding them on the path to transform, Divinise and return to Tropical birth chart consciousness from which they were born into, and thus to be 'born again'. Therefore, inherent to the suffering, demonised darkness state is a 'way out', a glimpse of hope or light to cling onto, and if done (for those fortunate enough to be incarnated with an Ophiuchus placement that is not blocked by environmental pollutants) can liberate and transcend the individual above all worldly suffering, returning to source and experiencing it ‘face to face’ every moment of every day.

Most accurately, Jupiters planetary concept is:

‘The immediate bad for the greater good’ (the opposite of Saturn).

Esoteric application

This correspondence aligns with the teachings inherent and eternal to Ophiuchus, the son of Royalty (Eather) overcame the dark forces (Matter, earth, Scar) to ascend to his rightful throne and expand light a thousand-fold, purifying and purging the darkness.

Ophiuchus and the 3rd and 6th chakras-

Ophiuchus is exoteric ruler of 3rd Chakra when retrograde (R), and exalted in 6th chakra when stationary. This is an inverse reflection of the Age of Pisces most dominant (direct) planets (Venus, Jupiter) being exoteric ruler of 6th chakra and exaltation in 3rd chakra. The sum of these two numbers, again, is 9.

The two Astrological systems effects on humanity:

Sidereal- Electrical dominance

Tropical- Magnetic dominance

Sidereal- Vibration

Tropical- Motion

Sidereal- Transvers Hertzian Wave

Tropical- Radiational longitudinal wave

For those who do not Divinise, and become Tropical where one would lose Ophiuchus consciousness, instead remaining sidereally influenced by Ophiuchus' constellation frequencies, Ophiuchus encourages the use of intellectual devotion to the philosophical, contemplative and healing arts. Wanting to remain in contact with Ophiuchus consciousness is likely why a lot of dark practitioners do so.

Ophiuchus Planetary Dignities?

All essential dignities belonging to Scorpio, apply to Ophiuchus.

Therefore

Eathers aspectual affinity with Water and Fire.

Eather has an aspectual affinity with water signs, ranging and encompassing the 4th to 29th degrees, and fire signs when less than 10 degrees of an individual Sabian degree, remembering that Ophiuchus begins at 14 degrees.

Sabian degrees?

Sabian degrees refers to the degrees of the Sign, i.e Scorpio 12, has a Sabian degree of Scorpio 13 (encompassing 12.0 – 12.99 deg). This specific whole number represents a blueprint, life mission and application to earth the child is ordained to follow.

Sapiens choose Sabians.

So, the following degrees and signs are available for aspectual relationship with Ophiuchus:

Pisces 4-29 (Trine)

Cancer 4-29 (Trine)

Scorpio 4-13 (Conjunction)

Pisces 0-9 (Square)

Equally, it shares an aspectual affinity with fire in the form of trines and conjunctions, encompassing Fires 0-9 degrees

Aries 0-9 (Trine)

Leo 0-9 (Trine)

Sagittarius 0-9 (Conjunction)

Sagittarius 14-29 (Semi sextile)

Ophiuchus also has a sextile with the stable elements (Earth, Air)

Virgo 4-29

Capricorn 4-29

Aquarius 0-9

Libra 0-9

And opposition with

Taurus 4-29

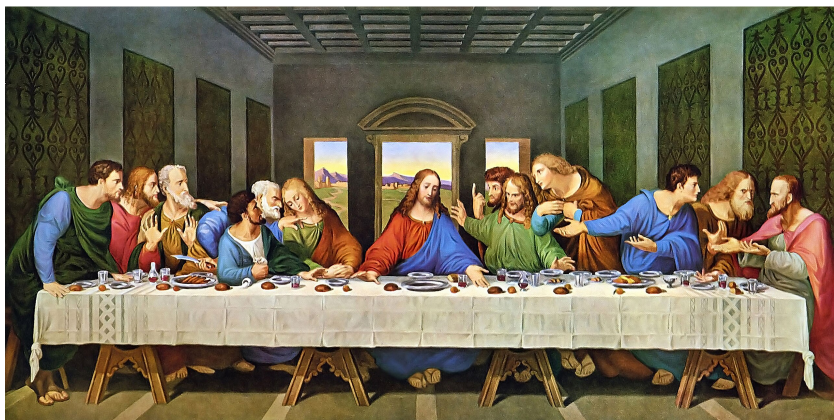

Gemini 0-9

It therefore has an influential aspectual relationship with almost the entire encompassment of water and earth signs, in trines and sextiles, but also oppositions and squares. Less common (only in Ophiuchus 20 deg and above), it has an aspectual relationship with the lower degrees of fire and air, in the form of sextiles, conjunction and opposition. It is worth pondering how Ophiuchus may be related to Scorpio, and how it is a transmutation and evolution/involution of it. In this transmutation, it may even an opposer or adversary of Scorpio. Remember they share identical essential dignities, a fact not shared by any other sign chronologically succeeding one another (or any two signs period). They're separate elements, Rays, archetypal symbolic creatures and modes of consciousness and one is entirely imperceptible on the Tropical (Ophiuchus), and one is perceptible in both the Tropical and sidereal (Scorpio).

Hint- their unity lies in the concept of 'silence'.

How powerful is Eather?

Leonardo Da Vinci- The Last Supper (1498)

Note- This is a commentary on the biblical Jesus or the biblical scene that this painting recreates not, nor any religious point whatsoever. It is an analysis of the potential fractal symbolic meanings based on the painters (Da Vinci) deliberate artistic choices, with the astrological perspective being widely theorised for centuries, and the astrological correspondence being a very prominent theory in the day of its creation. The Last Supper will be analysed in depth in Chapter 5 and 8 and how it proves Aquarius is the only exclusively feminine sign (indeed that is the entire controversy amongst the spectators).

to Virgo, with Jesus (representative of Pisces) in the centre. 3rd from the left, holding up both hands, we see Ophiuchus, represented as the old man, and Ophiuchus' distinctive immutable unconscious duality countenance, using 3rd Ray of Intellect and 6th Ray to get to the heart of the issue and to verify once and for all, problem solving the solution. Furthermore, Ophiuchus and Sagittarius are the oldest figures at the table, signifying that Ophiuchus and Sagittarius and their elements of immutable unconscious Eather and mutable unconscious fire (that fire that must be transmuted into source/Eather and the second highest element) may be the progenitors of all the other signs, indicative that Eather and fire are the source of all the 3 elements (earth, water, air) and the 11 additional signs in our Zodiac. This also signifies that they were (likely) here from the beginning since creation. Pisces and Aquarius in comparison are by far the youngest at the table, confirming Baileys proclamation that Pisces and Aquarius are the most recent additions of the zodiac. Furthermore, Ophiuchus is the only figure at the table intellectually contributing, rather than emotionally reacting. This is reflecting (brilliantly) of his 3rd Ray of Intellect and 6th Ray of Devotion to get to the heart of the issue. This is in (stark) contradistinction to the only other elder, Sagittarius.

Ophiuchus in the Soul and Spirit.

A Soul in Ophiuchus is a combination of electricity and magnetism (Di electricity). Therefore, the combination of Ophiuchus and Spirit for men, and Soul in Ophiuchus for women is 10 billion squared in Spiritual consciousness amplification. Similarly, a Spirit in a Fire sign for men is a combination of magnetism and electricity (Di electricity). The magical (magnetic) combination is Spirit in Ophiuchus, or Soul in Ophiuchus for women as that is one of pure magnetism. The most electrifying combination is Soul in a fire sign for men, or Spirit in a fire sign for women) as that is one of pure electricity (Page 48-49 elucidates the Soul/Spirit differences in men and women.).

Ophiuchus Sabian degrees:

It is worth contemplating why Ophiuchus chose (or why Jupiter placed him into) the Sabian degrees of Scorpio for the expressionary distribution of magnetic, Eatheric immutable unconscious duality consciousness on earth. Through this, we can get a definitive picture of what Ophiuchus is, and what it is not. The list below applies exclusively to Ophiuchus in the sidereal, but Scorpio in the Tropical (remembering that Ophiuchus doesn't exist in the Tropical charts).

Ophiuchus' life purpose/ mission expressed through its 15 distinct Sabian expressions.

Scorpio 15 (14° – 15°)

“Initial steps of humanities Spiritual breakthrough. Realising how little we really know”.

Scorpio 16 (15° – 16°)

“Friendliness Gestures. Seeing all things in life as a mirror of who we are”.

Scorpio 17 (16° – 17°)

“Complete self- determination”.

Scorpio 18 (17° – 18°)

“Self-Transformation. Freeing ourselves from patterns of limiting beliefs”.

Scorpio 19 (18° – 19°)

“Channelling Higher Knowledge. Trusting in the mysterious inner voice of guidance”.

Scorpio 20 (19° – 20°)

“Faith in the Future. Through the deepening of faith, opening up to an expanded future”.

Scorpio 21 (20° – 21°)

“Conscientious Objection. Being true to ourselves”.

Scorpio 22 (21° – 22°)

“Assimilation of Primitive Instincts. Accommodating instinctual drives”.

Scorpio 23 (22° – 23°)

“Refining Animal Instincts. Transforming baser instincts”.

Scorpio 24 (23° – 24°)

“Grounding Spiritual experiences into life. Practical application of Spiritual principles”.

Scorpio 25 (24° – 25°)

“Penetrating beneath the surface to know the mysteries”.

Scorpio 26 (25° – 26°)

“Adaptability. Trusting that we can find whatever we need wherever we go”.

Scorpio 27 (26° – 27°)

“Sabre Rattling. Building safe space through projection of personal atmosphere”.

Scorpio 28 (27° – 28°)

“Inner Sovereignty. Awareness of our deepest yearnings”.

Scorpio 29 (28° – 29°)

“Prayer as a force that brings peace. Intense emotional focus”.

Scorpio 30 (29° – 30°)

“Releasing Steam. Allowing a measure of wildness reveals our darker secrets”.

Through sidereal Scorpios Sabian degree expressions, we can find out definitively what Ophiuchus is not:

Scorpio 1 (0° – 1°)

“Curiosity. We move away from our beloved past motivated by curiosity for greater experience”.

Scorpio 2 (1° – 2°)

“Nostalgia. Sharing nostalgic memories binds us into community”.

Scorpio 3 (2° – 3°)

“Working together. Building a better future working with others in our community”.

Scorpio 4 (3° – 4°)

“Ritual. Communal rituals both settle us and deepen our access to the life force”.

Scorpio 5 (4° – 5°)

“The stabilising influence of institutions. Though slow to form, as is land itself”.

Scorpio 6 (5° – 6°)

“Longing for More Finding the appetite to experience more abundance and life adventures”.

Scorpio 7 (6° – 7°)

“Turning within to contemplate the nature of life and self”.

Scorpio 8 (7° – 8°)

“Stillness. Development of compassion and helpfulness through centring into peace”.

Scorpio 9 (8° – 9°)

“Destruction and repair. The imperfections of our ego-motivated life style bring us to find inventive ways to cope and re-balance” “Being helpful in solving others’ problems.

Scorpio 10 (9° – 10°)

“Camaraderie. Enjoyment of friendliness”.

Scorpio 11 (10° – 11°)

“All for one and one for all. Readiness to care for others of our species”.

Scorpio 12 (11° – 12°)

“Diplomatic struggling. Keeping open difficult relationships with skills in diplomacy”.

Scorpio 13 (12° – 13°)

“Seeing how everything connects. Seeing that everything is connected”.

Scorpio 14 (13° – 14°)

”Networking. Widespread communication of feelings and thought”.

Note- The Tropical consciousness perceive all of the above in Scorpio (fixed conscious duality right-hemispheric perception, water) only, whereas the sidereal experience the lower degrees (0-13) in Scorpio, and the higher degrees (14-29) in Ophiuchus (immutable unconscious duality, right-hemispheric magnetic Eather perception).

Summary:

Ophiuchus is the 9th sign, following Scorpio (when rotating clockwise from Aries) and is perceptible to the 14-29 degrees of Scorpio. It is perceptible only in the sidereal chart, and not the Tropical chart, in all 4 astrological charts. It is the only sign that has the transcendent element of magnetic Eather/ Spirit. It operates in the right brain hemisphere and expresses through any planet. It is the only sign with the unique element and style of perception, immutable unconscious duality. Through unconscious duality it gains insight into the Immutable law of the universe, dynamic magnetic motion. It is predominantly female (being exalted in the feminine material non-sacred 5th and sacred 7th ray planets), but it is also exalted in the sacred masculine 2nd ray too, and holds both the 3rd and 6th ray, being a composite sign of masculine and feminine (with no androgynous ray), thus being a composite of both masculine and feminine with no explicit androgenicity. However, it is androgynous in the sense that it has the transmutative capacity to manifest and express through all the elements. The 3rd and 6th rays sum to 9, the single number reduction of the mark of the beast, and the 'number of man'. It is the 9th sign in the zodiac and its rays sum to 9. Its chemical structure is therefore (likely) 999, the inversion of 666. Earth and all elements are Eather in its lower expressions. Magnetic Eather is omnipresent, permeating the entire universe, and likely channelling the energy/element from the Prime creator. Jupiter, Uranus and Black Moon Lilith are the most important planets to Ophiuchus since they have the highest essential dignity (exaltation). Spirit in Ophiuchus for men and Soul in Ophiuchus for women is the highest magnetic combination, having an amplifying conjunction of magnetic Eather and Spirit. Ophiuchus has identical essential dignities and Sabian expressions to Scorpio, diversifying neurological perception through immutable unconscious duality (Ophiuchus) and fixed conscious duality (Scorpio). Ophiuchus is in perfect trine relationship with Sirius (Sirius being Tropically in Cancer 14, and Ophiuchus being sidereally in Scorpio 14), suggesting a potential harmony and partnership between the higher ones of both polarities of the world. The fact that Ophiuchus is only perceptible in the sidereal chart and not the Tropical gives validity to the notion that it was made into a constellation after the original constellations, being killed by Jupiter for sharing the secret of immortality to humanity. If it was not made into a constellation and was already there as suggested by Da Vinci, then it was made perceivable to humanity. There is a suggestion that 'to be like gods' is to have immutable unconscious duality expressed through magnetic Eather. Ophiuchus was in a harmonious trine with the Age of Pisces for the vast majority of it, which ended in the 3rd degree downwards, and then transition to the Age of Aquarius. Unlike Sagittarius and Pisces (being half human half animal) Ophiuchus is a separated man and serpent. The most mysterious chakras, 3rd and 6th are exoteric ruler and exalt in Ophiuchus stationary inversely mirroring the Age of Pisces essential dignities (exalted in 3rd Chakra, exoteric ruler on 6th chakra). Ophiuchus was on the last supper painting by Leonardo Da Vinci and is identifiable by his countenance and his precise position on the table/ zodiac (in relation to Jesus, representing Pisces). In this painting, there is the implication that Ophiuchus is the oldest and progenitor of all signs, alongside Sagittarius, and is the only figure at the table intellectually contributing to provide a solution to the controversy.

Chapter 2 - The Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost

Soul- Ascendant (Ac)
Spirit- Descendant (Dc)
Innermost- Midheaven (Mc)
Outermost- Imum Coeli (Ic)

The Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost biologically and psychologically express the sign, element, and Sabian degree of the Ascendant, Descendant, Midheaven and Imum Coeli. The Spirit and Soul are in perfect mathematical opposition, providing balance and harmony, the Innermost and Outermost are also in opposition with one another.

Outermost?

The Outermost (Ic) is union with the external Divine, in contrast to union with the internal Divine (Innermost). It is looking outside of oneself and yearning for reception, connection, input, inspiration, and answers. It is received exclusively from above, not horizontally or below ('Imum coeli' translates to 'bottom of heaven'). The Outermost pierces between the Soul and the Spirit, coming to a (ultimately magnetic for men, electric for women) conclusion. It is 'attuning' to external Divine frequencies of high capacitance and dimensionality and is that which Charles W. Leadbeater describes as the 'Higher Ego'.

Conscious activation?'

If one's Ac is in Leo, one can be sure if he self-summons the Sabian (degrees) and consciousness (fixed conscious duality) specific fire within, they're using Soul. If Dc is in Aquarius, one can be sure if they self-summon air specific to the Sabian degree and consciousness of the sign, they're engaged in Spirit. The same can be applied for the Mc and Ic. These elements are aspectual oppositions, in differing brain hemispheres and elemental expressions, so confusion is impossible.

Fundamental Atomic correspondences to Soul and Spirit in both genders

Man

Spirit- Proton

Soul- Electron

Innermost- Neutron, with an Electron focus

Outermost- Neutron, with a Proton focus

Spirit- Electron

Soul- Proton

Innermost- Neutron, with a Proton focus

Outermost- Neutron, with an Electron focus

The Spirit and Soul are the exclusive expressions of one half of every atom in the universe. The Innermost and Outermost are a combination of the whole atom with a final focus on one exclusive portion.

Electromagnetic correspondences to Soul and Spirit in both genders

Man

Soul- Electricity

Spirit- Magnetism

Innermost- Di electricity with an electric focus

Outermost- Di electricity with a magnetic focus

Soul- Magnetism

Spirit- Electricity

Innermost- Di electricity with a magnetic focus

Outermost- Di electricity with an electric focus

This is why the Divine union, the male-female relationship is so profoundly important to the function, development and expansion of humanity, exoterically in numerical proliferation, and esoterically in biological, psychological, evolutionary and Soul capacities. It is entirely indispensable, since our Soul, prior to incarnations separation and placing in two separate bodies of differing genders, was a composite of both male and female.

This division of the androgynous Soul is why gender division is rife today, and so easily weaponised since men and women perceive the same planes through opposing elemental lenses. Instead of the 'opposition' nature in this case being recognised for what it is, a harmonising balance mutually beneficial and necessary for the flourishing of both genders, it's instead misinterpreted as (purposeful) malintent with partners wrongfully projecting that their partners perceive reality through the same electromagnetic lenses. Furthermore, incorporate the ever-densifying sidereal consciousness for the vast majority of the world, you get a relationship of pure electricity on the inverse planes the man and woman are most proficient (magnetically activated) in.

'AcDc'

Alternating Current- Electricity

Direct Current- Magnetic Eather (Source)

Application of the Spirit and Soul being mathematical oppositions

Souls consciousness root, the body, wars against (and is the antithesis of) the Spirit. Body is composed of flesh and blood (earth and water) and Spirit is the breath of life and inhalation (air) created from the Divine spark (fire) by the element of the Divine (Eather).

Free-will and Spirits link?

Free-will is ideally expressed through Spirit. The Soul has a limited capacitance for free will, usually confined and expressing itself in the realm of the animalistic for the majority of humanity. This fact is seen everywhere, where prior to incarceration (or poor incarnation), male wrong doers almost always acted in their Soul (electric animalistic) impulses. Furthermore, alcohol, that substance which is almost always the precursor for violent crime (including murder), numbs magnetic Spiritual reception, ironically by demonizing the drinker with external spirits as they drink 'spirits', and amplifies the Soul. So, as you'd expect, you get violent men (electrical applications of the animalistic Soul) and women who engage in risqué behaviour (magnetic procreative expressions of the animalistic Soul) under its influence. The Spirit is unlimited pure light (magnetism, in men), transcending genes, nurture, past and present conditions allowing moment to moment lucid (not exclusively conscious, since the Spirit can express through mutable or immutable unconsciousness) choices, allowing one complete control, autonomy, and Divine wisdom reception.

The Spirit is anthropomorphised by Shiva who is symbolic of the Holy Spirit, and the inhalation. The Soul is anthropomorphised as Sophia (cross cultural symbol of Divine wisdom), Pallas Athena, the bearer of the immaculate conception who was immaculately conceived, and the exhalation. Unfortunately, many attempt to amplify material density (since the Western world is, in modernity, polarized exclusively to the left-hemisphere and root chakra) expecting it to elicit free will. This is a confusion rooted in individual's defence mechanisms to emotionally survive personal human interaction with potential for conflict, mistaken as the path for long term flourishing in moment-to-moment life challenges.

Spirit and Soul in the New Age movement and Modernity

The 'New Age' Spiritual movement, whilst being largely educational, promotes Spiritual dominance at the exclusion of Soul, and Western modernity promotes its opposite. The exhausted Western Modernity archetypal man, upon discovering Spirituality or key biological centres, is prone to escapism and to find refuge in the new age movement. The reality is the new age movement (right-hemisphere without the left) is the ideal, perfectly controlled slave archetype desired by rulers for populations. Note that Pisces (Prior Tropical Age, current sidereal Age) and Aquarius (Current Tropical Age, Future sidereal Age) operate through the right-brain hemisphere (Water and Air signs). So, describing current Western culture as 'modernity' (left-hemispheric dominance) bears no correspondence to the Age of Pisces whatsoever. 'Modernity' is a universal term, denoting, in actual fact, the necessary preconditions for the destruction of civilisations of all Ages. These preconditions strategically target certain biological frequencies by blocking their reception, and hemispheric (neurological) polarisation is forced through environmental pollutants and wrong practices.

Western modernity polarises their populations to the 1st Root chakra, and the left-brain hemisphere.

Balance between the Spirit and Soul?

‘How long halt ye between two opinions?’

One must use the Spirit and the Soul for their designated functions in order to be balanced, attaining synthesis from consultation of both aspects. Spirits primary functions are that of free will utilisation, transcending material limitations, conceptual unification when contemplating material reality, creation of visible and invisible forms, and problem-solving solutions (sacred, subjective consciousness). Souls primary designated functions is the energising aspect of the will, the initiating force catalysing action in the material world (non-sacred, judgement, objective).

Balance is sanity

Latin etymological roots of ‘Sane’ and ‘Insane’

Sane- Whole

Insane- Not whole

One must seek a balanced calibration of reception of the Holy holes in order to be whole. That is, be open to the firmaments astrological influences and using discernment and free will, alchemise these influences for desired results. We, through free will, must control which influences are activated and not let them control us. Wise self-governance (which translates to ‘anarchy’) is required.

Benefic planets of the Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost

Benefic planets are those planets that are magnetically activated when ones Soul, Spirit, Innermost or Outermost falls within a specific sign, which results in more focused, deeper and ‘benefic’ processing when engaged. Unless there is a conjunction or trine between the Ac/Dc, or Mc/Ic and a malefic planet, it is very unlikely that the malefic planet will be gravitated to and triggered when engaging the Soul or Spirit. This supersedes even chakra personality preferences (instantiated biological capacity with chakra speed of rotation). Indeed, to be conjunct or trine with a malefic planet will render disastrous outer consequences, and subjective wellbeing if prolonged. However, if it is engaged in sparingly and strategically it builds toughness, strength, and is a valuable perception because it is raw, animalistic, intense, as opposed to refined, careful, skilful (characteristics of benefic and to a lesser degree, neutral planets). It is the basis for transcendence achieved through benefic and neutral planet activation. Unfortunately, most people have biological centres they’re most proficient at not in terms of dignity, but in terms of instantiated capacity from multiple lifetimes with the most common being 1st and 3rd chakra, and in the minority (non-sensory perceivers) 6th and 7th chakra. This capacity occurs from mundane material, biological structures, evolutionary capacities and epigenetic tendencies (genetics) and the immaterial Eatheric vessel with evolutionary capacities (Soul).

How?

The Soul can only incarnate in a vessel with biological instrumentation suitable to it.

Benefic planets and Number System for the Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost

The following was created out of necessity for you can find these nowhere in unanimous uniformity. Some sources, who got it one third or two thirds right, left out the outer planets (Uranus, Neptune, Pluto). Indeed, the most widely and publicly celebrated books, videos and sites with millions of readers, contradict one another on the following assignments-

In application to the Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost the following list applies-

Leo-

Benefic- Sun, Mars, Pluto

Neutral- Jupiter, Uranus, Neptune

Malefic- Moon, Mercury, Venus, Saturn

Aquarius

Malefic- Moon, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn

Pisces

Benefic- Moon, Mars, Jupiter

Neutral- Saturn, Neptune, Pluto

Malefic- Mercury, Venus, Sun, Uranus

Notes on the above:

Leo

If the 1st chakra personality type has a Leo/Aquarius axis on their Soul/Spirit they're entirely without benefic or neutral Moon in both the Soul and Spirit. Thus, their biggest strength (Moon) is always malefic in expression for that particular chart, regardless of whether there is a right-hemispheric sign in the Moon that affords them the highest depth of perception. This is exacerbated if this individual has no left-hemispheric Moon signs (fire, earth) in his other 4 charts, so his natural planet, that right-hemispheric planet expressing the highest depth of perception never gets to be expressed in its ideal biological placement.

Cancer-

Cancer, alongside Libra are the only signs that have Neptune as a benefic, so Neptunes consciousness of sacred Devotion, in this sign, is very well applied to the female portion of humanity, and indeed amongst the prominent women it is a very common ascendant. It's also sought after for the Spirit, the Spirit (I'm this case being Cancers opposition, Capricorn), is benefic in all 3 sacred inner planets (Mercury, Venus, Saturn) and neutral in 2 additional sacred (Jupiter and Uranus) planets. Thus, Capricorn has the most sacred planets as being benefic, and sacred planetary consciousness is Divinely placed with the Spiritual consciousness

Taurus-

Depending on its degrees, Taurus can have its Spirit in Ophiuchus, which as stated previously, is the ultimate magnetic combination of magnetism for men, whereas Soul (ascendant) is the ultimate magnetic combination of magnetism in women.

Number system

*Note, malefic planets are excluded entirely from the Number system, they can be discovered through inference (the missing numbers/letters).

Paramount-

The planets do not correlate with the Soul, Spirit, Innermost or Outermost since there can be transplantation of planetary chakra expression differences in individuals. These influences are only fixed in their influence on, and corresponding absolutely with the biological chakras and therefore are most accurately reflected through the Number system and not through memorisation of planets. Chapter 3 - Essential Dignities, Elements and the Rays

Essential Dignities definitions:

(+) Polarity

Fundamentally, + polarity essential dignities 'zoom in' to stimuli, with ever-increasing focus and are thus termed, 'dignified'.

Joy- To view stimuli entirely from the present experience extrapolating from one to many. Archetypally, to view the world with 'child like' eyes, or John Lockes 'Tabula Rasa'. (0-dimensional, Outermost Awareness)

Exoteric Ruler- To view stimuli from a 2-dimensional (normative), skeletal point of view. Structurally accurate, but without life/ essence. Processed on the perception of the personality.

Esoteric Ruler- Soul development, to perceive stimuli from a 3-dimensional (situational) point of view, filling in the above exoteric structure with flesh, veins, blood vessels, muscles, organs, and perceiving the Soul. Processed in the perception of Soul expansion.

Hierarchical Ruler- Spiritual development, to perceive the above structure in a 4-dimensional basis incorporating the element of 'time', transmuting it from situational to eternal, understanding this skeletal flesh structure with a Soul through the sense of Spiritual development. It asks 'what's the purpose of being in this world?' 'What's the meaning of life?' 'What would give me the greatest amount of fulfillment'?

Exalt- The highest dignity, a six-fold combination of awareness, experiential, normative, situational, and temporal that emerges into 5-dimensional Innermost perception. Processed through the perception of evolution, that Immutable law of the universe of constant expansive motion (dynamic magnetic motion).

(-) Polarity

Fundamentally, – polarity essential dignities 'zoom out' of stimuli, with ever-increasing heights of perspective, and are thus termed 'undignified'.

Detriment

Detriments are primarily an inversion of conventional perspective that allows one to 'read between the lines' and see the underlying, hidden and (often) sinister undercurrents of stimuli. Detriments are universally 1-dimensional, with experiential, black light perception. It activates the Freudian id state of consciousness, and is therefore primarily based on 'reptilian' survival focused thinking, activating the brain stem. Emblematic of slithering on the floor, its inherent tendency and manifestations are usually associated with traditional conceptions of 'evil'. Subjectively, this is the most relaxing, liberating and truthful perspective an individual can have. A diffusion of singular focus into the whole, with the 'greater good' being acutely perceived. A focus on the net effects beyond the immediate present. It is understanding the villain, and seeing the flaws in the heroes. There are many different variations of positive aspects, such as exoteric rulership, esoteric rulership, Hierarchical rulership, joy and exalt centred on a singular focus (+), but all of these except for exaltation, have their opposite (almost universally) in detriment. So, there is joy-detriment, exoteric-detriment, esoteric-detriment and Hierarchical-detriment. However, Detriments are first experiential (1-dimensional), and then invert, 'referencing' the dimension by which their opposition rules. The definition of these is identical to the definition of the rulerships, only inverted, that is, the level at which they diffuse the singular focus (-) is dependent on its opposite. So, a Hierarchical rulers opposite will detriment (experientially) first, and then reference this to 4-dimensional Spiritual and temporal perception. An exoteric rulers opposition will be a personality detriment, referencing the 'greater good' from the level of the 2-dimensional skeletal personality perception of the 'greater good'. The opposite of a + dignity, except in few cases, is always 'world weary' and depressed (eliciting physiological deep rest) in outlook and perception. Notable exceptions include Moon in Pisces (joy) and Moon in Virgo (esoteric ruler).

Fall

Perceives the ‘greater good’ through inverted 5-dimensional ‘Source’ perception. Highest capacitance frequency, with the highest potential for Divine application (earth), analysis (air), depth of emotion (water), creative initiations (fire), as a ‘fallen Angel on earth’.

Is Exaltation the only dignity ruling on multiple levels?

Leo Sun, Capricorn Saturn, Mars in Scorpio/Ophiuchus are but a few who simultaneously rule on the personality (exoteric), Soul (esoteric), and in the case of Leo, the Spiritual (Hierarchical) level. Their oppositions of detriment, Taurus Mars, Aquarius Sun, and Cancer Saturn, detriment and invert on the level of the personality, Soul, and Spiritual. Thus, it is a multi-dimensional expansion of diffusion into the whole. Detriment is the most common planetary dignity as it encompasses all rulers and joys oppositions.

Note on Hierarchical ruler- the Hierarchical ruler is the most relevant form of rulership to humanity.

Note on Joy

The concept of ‘joy’ is scarcely mentioned anywhere in exoteric or esoteric literature. I first heard of the concept through an obscure document, and from that moment, through introspective application I discovered joys that were not mentioned in that original i.e. Moon in Gemini, when only

Moon in Pisces was listed. Even the more esoteric Vedic astrology literature makes no mention of it as a legitimate essential dignity. Nevertheless, it is a reality, and its + polarity is certain. The thing that makes joys special, is they're the only exclusively 0-dimensional essential dignity, and they break the mathematical formula of essential dignities. For example, in every planet the opposite of a ruler (be it exoteric, esoteric etc.) is always a detriment on the level of the exoteric or esoteric of its mathematical opposition. I.e. Saturn in Leo is detriment on the exoteric level, since its opposite, Saturn in Aquarius rules on the exoteric level. Equally, falls and exaltation signs are in perfect mathematical opposition to each other i.e Jupiter in Capricorn is Fall, since Jupiter in Cancer is exalted (when expressed through the 6th chakra). Jupiter in Capricorn (R) is exalted, and Jupiter in Cancer (R) is in Fall. Thus, it would seem + polarity is always in opposition to a – polarity, and vice versa. However, the essential dignity of joy breaks this trend, but not in any uniform, logical order. I.e. Moon in Virgo has an essential dignity of esoteric rulership, and its opposition of Moon in Pisces is joy. However, Moon in Sagittarius is Detrimental, but its opposition is in joy.

Important-

Like the Soul and Spirit benefic planets/chakras in the last chapter, the planetary Dignities are entirely based on biological (chakra) correspondence, and not the planets themselves. Therefore, when Venus is in the 3rd chakra and in Cancer, it's in Hierarchical detriment, but when expressed through the 6th chakra it's exalted (identical to the birth planet of the 6th Chakra, Jupiter). Thus, Venus has now transformed into a + polarity and essential dignity (exaltation), rather than a – polarity and essential dignity (Hierarchical detriment), due entirely to the biological shift.

However, the following list is for the vast majority of humanity with birth planetary-chakra/emanation configuration.

1 Moon

2 Mercury

3 Venus

4 Sun

5 Mars

6 Jupiter

7 Saturn

8 Uranus

9 Neptune

10 Pluto

Note- while 8, 9 and 10 do not correspond to a biological chakra, they correspond to an emanation received and for all intents and purposes, identical to the chakras in terms of information processing, essential dignities, and Soul/Spirit benefic, neutral and malefic planets. In Chapter 10, you will see in that Number system that 4 out of 7 Chakra personality types have as their most powerful strengths one of the emanations.

It's been claimed that no sign falls or is exalted in Pluto, but this book posits that Pluto in Leo (R) is exalted and Pluto in Leo direct is in fall. This means Aquarius direct exalts and Aquarius (R) falls. Additionally, Gemini (st) exalts, and Sagittarius (st) falls. If it's not exaltation, then Pluto in the Leo/Aquarius axis rules/ detriments on multiple levels (exoteric, esoteric, Hierarchical), akin to Sun in Leo/Aquarius, Mars in Scorpio/Taurus, etc.

Planetary motions essential dignities formula

Key:

(R) Retrograde, oppositions essential dignity

(st) Stationary, anti-clockwise trine of a sign

Therefore-

Leo 28 (R)= Aquarius 28 essential dignity

Leo 28 (st)= Aries 28 essential dignity

The planetary motion has profound effects on the essential dignity of the sign- Mercury in Leo direct is Fall, and Mercury in Leo (R) is exalted.

Fall- Sagittarius, Cancer

The above transformation can be done with every planet excluding the Moon, Sun, and Earth since they don't retrograde or go stationary.

Importance of stationary (st) planets

As stated, the ultimate essential dignity expression of any planet is through stationary exaltation signs since the nature of the 'stationary' (non-existent) motion means it's that planets purest expression and the exaltation being the highest essential dignity. This rare state only last 1-2 days.

Chapter 4 - Planetary Significance, and Polarities

Black vs White light

Planets correspond to a black light, or a white light

‘White light?’

White light planets are those planets who perceive with the conscious Freudian Super-Ego and Ego. It is associated with the Spiritual/magnetic Etheric ‘white light’, and who then seek to manifest these ideals onto reality afterwards. Hence the ‘white’ symbolizes the Spirit (and its associated visuality upon activation), and the source of consciousness that is inspiration, associated with the inhalation.

‘Black light?’

Black light planets are those who perceive through the unconscious Freudian Id, and seek to reference this reality with the Divine/Spiritual afterwards. Hence the 'black' symbolises the Soul, and that source of consciousness associated with the exhalation.

In this sense, there is nothing inherently 'evil' about black light nor white light, they're merely two sides of the same coin, and are ultimately necessary for all of humanity throughout life. How can one evaluate whether the Divine was successfully applied to reality (white light) unless they can perceive reality and cross reference it to the Divine (black light)? There are many who, perceiving the unlimited magnetic nature of Eatheric Spirit, declare 'We are all from source, the material world is but an illusion, what does it matter if I do x or y?'. The black light is paramount to look at the actual material net reality of their worldview derived from Spiritual realisation and cross reference it back to the Spiritual/magnetic Eather. It is the black light that allows people to look at the material and more often, moral pandemonium of a 'live and let live' society and through Spiritual cross-referencing, recognise it as 'evil and let evil' one. It is therefore likely that Angels and the Watchers of our planet are those who primarily use and are proficient in the black light planets.

Just as the white light consciousness is co-incident with white light visibility, black light consciousness associated with black light visibility. Furthermore, white light is associated with lightness (weight) and 'liberation', whereas black light is associated with density, and heaviness', weighing one down', oppression.

"One does not become enlightened by imagining figures of light, but by making the darkness conscious."

-Carl Jung

Black light planets include-

-Moon, Mercury, Sun, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Neptune, Pluto

White light planets include-

-Venus, Vulcan, Saturn, Uranus

Note this inherent colour of the planets applies regardless of chakra expression.

Black vs White light signs

The signs also lend an inherent colour, irrespective of its essential dignity, or planetary expression. All unconscious signs are Black light, all conscious signs are white light.

Black light signs:

Ophiuchus, Sagittarius, Gemini, Pisces, Virgo

White light signs:

Aries, Leo, Libra, Aquarius, Cancer, Scorpio, Capricorn, Taurus

The signs can also add a 'black light' expression to a 'white planet' and vice versa. For example, all unconscious signs (mutable and immutable, Pisces, Gemini, Sagittarius, Virgo, Ophiuchus) in Venus (white light) will now blend a mixture of white (Venus) and black light (unconscious sign) perception.

Finally, the essential dignity also adds a black or white colour

White light

Joy, Exoteric Ruler, Esoteric Ruler, Hierarchical Ruler, Fall.

Black light

Detriment, Exalt

Yes, there is a difference in colour expression of polarity compared with the + and – polarities referenced in chapter 3 (page 63).

Example: Uranus in Pisces

This has 2 black light elements (mutable sign and detrimented essential dignity) in a white light planet (Uranus). It is therefore 2/3 black light, and 1/3 white light

Horizontal and Vertical International Hemispheric Divisions

The western hemisphere (The Americas and Canada) is fundamentally white light, and the eastern hemisphere (Australia, New Zealand, Eastern Asia, Eastern Russia) is fundamentally black light. This is evident even when Latinos and North Americans/Canadians settle in Australia, and become fundamentally drawn to the black light and negative polarity, and when Australians/New Zealanders, and Easterners emigrate to the Western Hemisphere and become fundamentally drawn to the white light and positive polarity. It is not genetic or past environmentally determined but entirely influenced from the immediate environment. However, epigenetics would determine that successive generations spent in one part of the world will instantiate a ‘tendency’ and increased capacity in those coloured planets, signs and essential dignities. This is even separate from the personal chakra dominance (elucidated in Chapter 10). The central hemisphere (Europe and Africa) is a balance between the two. While there is a comparative balance, there is still an observable difference between the East and West of these continents in accordance with the aforementioned law.

The Northern hemispheres (particularly Alaska, Canada, Greenland, Northern Europe, North Russia) have a magnetic pull to the higher chakras in precise parallel with the North Pole. In particular they tend to express the 9th emanation Neptune very strongly in their culture. However, the opposite is true in the Southern Hemisphere (particularly Australia, Southern Africa, Argentina and Chile) where the magnetic pull is to the lower chakras, with a very strong cultural expression of Moon (1st chakra) in precise parallel to the South Pole.

The importance of Moon

The traditional conceptions of 'evil' that is, the 7 deadly sins, material associations are wrongfully applied to the sacred ultra violet Intellectual planet (Saturn), and correctly applied to the infrared (sometimes blood red) Moon. The Moon is the matrix that controls matter. The Moons frequency produces a low capacitance 'Sin(e)' wave that is often the precondition consciousness to 'sinful' action. This frequency of consciousness deals with the material non-sacred world. Its frequency is Sin and is the only planet that corresponds to Freuds material id consciousness. Indeed, in Akkadian the name for the Moon was 'Sin'. According to Dantes Inferno, Moon is the lowest level of heaven (beyond earth). Thus, there is an intimate connection between the Earth (planet), and therefore the earth incarnate Soul, and Sin. Moon, or the frequencies behind it channelled through it, correspond with the root (red) chakra, with the lowest number of petals (capacitance) based entirely in perception of the material world. The Moon is intimately related to humanity and Earth is said to be governed by the Moon, with the Moon and Earth being siblings. It is most proficiently used and applied by the feminine population, but this planet is fundamentally androgynous, representing the non-sacred (material) 4th Ray. It is ideally expressed by women because women (through their magnetic Soul) are magnetically activated in non-sacred (material) consciousness (Soul consciousness). The decrying of materialism is therefore ultimately a male perspective since (through their enhanced awareness and perception of the magnetic Eather) men have a magnetic Spirit, whereas women have a magnetic Soul. Ultimately, both sexes are led by the Magnetic Eather, in either the material (Soul) or Spiritual (Spirit). Men who are too (unnaturally) Lunar influenced fall into deadly vices, thoughts, tendencies, violence and can result in insanity. Even in the predominately lower capacitance adepts of men, they're supposed to be guided by Mercury. The feminine Lunar connection is further evidenced in the womens monthly menstrual (moonstrual) cycle corresponding to the 28-day 13-month Lunar yearly cycles. The Moon is also associated with water, as it controls the tides of the ocean, and human neurology (waters in the brain, constituting 80%+) resulting in worldwide simultaneous crime increases and mental health episodes during a Full Moon. Thus, the 'Werewolf' archetype has its roots in humanity. One will have witnessed individuals' personalities dramatically shift after sundown, going from jovial and happy, to Sin ister. Moons rulership over Earth and its inherent feminine nature means there is a universal matriarchy, behind the scenes covertly and overtly (for those who have eyes to see, and ears to hear). Humanity in its current stage of evolution would not accept who their true leaders are.

The Moon is responsible for fear, and so depending on the person, it can make (propelling to higher altitudes than would have been ordinarily climbed), or break. It is therefore simultaneously its greatest blessing and greatest curse.

Why?

All fear can point to key areas in life one needs to focus on and overcome through right action. So fear, is Sophia the goddess of Divine wisdom. Due to sinister alchemising environmental conditions, Moon consciousness (root 1st chakra consciousness) is forcibly thrust upon humanity rendering it the only Freudian id (the non-material id, Jupiter, our birth right is largely blocked). This entire operation, removes the perception of the transcendent sacred immaterial love/wisdom frequency, and creates a testing/battle ground for humanity on the androgynous non-sacred 4th Ray of Physical Development. Many go lifetimes without ever passing this test, that test of conquering, overcoming and seeing beyond the material.

Clarity can be difficult at times with the feminine Lunar, Sophia gives you fear through sophistry.

Sophistry?

You will believe the Maya material illusion, and forget the truth of who we are, where we are, where we came from, and where we're going.

Scholars have stated that the Moon was previously inhabited and the Souls, spirits, forces are demonic spirits left behind from their final epoch. Indeed, individuals' atoms, through our immediate actions and influence of cause and effect can transform and proliferate as either Lunar (Demonic) or Solar (Angelic) atoms. The demonic frequency and possessed individual tormented and controlled by it is strongly related to the Moon. Prolonged consciousness in the Lunar consciousness (SINe wave frequency) guarantees sinful, diabolic influences, regardless of whether they're benefic, neutral or malefic in respect to ones ascendant, descendant, or ones chakra personality type.

It has been said that the Moon does not emit its own light and merely reflects the Sun in modern science, and that the Moon is a dead orb that does not emit its light, instead being the channel for other planetary energies by esoteric astrologers. The latter may certainly be true, for we know there is a Sun behind the Sun (Soul of the Sun), and a Sun behind that Sun (Spiritual Sun). Therefore, there may be Planets and energy behind channelled through the Moonlight, that exist behind it.

Sin / Sun?

It's worthy to remember that in the world of language all vowels are interchangeable and in applying and experimenting with this, reveal esoterically profound truths.

Note- If anyone understands the way atoms can transform and proliferate as either Lunar or Solar, it is thus very likely if the Western world were to be aligned with the Lunar calendar (and no longer the Solar), it would have drastic effects on their collective populations. Indeed, the stark difference of the Eastern cultures with their Lunar calendar and the Western solar calendar is palpable, with each culture very much reflecting these two luminaries. Through conscious and unconscious recognition of the Lunar (Eastern) and Solar (Western) cycles it puts populations in harmony with, and therefore, quasi- governance of the respective luminaries.

The importance of Mercury

Mercury is the messenger of (all) the gods. It is the link between two worlds, the 'Divine spark' that should be ignited consciously. Discovery of the key to Mercury is paramount. Doing so can overcome helplessness, provide insight into right action, and wisdom in regards to Physical Development (through sacred consciousness conceptually creating order from chaos). Mercury is mistakenly defined as 'intellect'. Certainly, it is an illuminative form of mind, but it is not the truest definition of 'intellect', instead being a sacred consciousness expression of Physical Development, and the ability to relate two distinct concepts. If you ask many to display their intellect, they will almost always engage Mercury exclusively, ignoring true sacred (Saturn) or material (Earth) Intellect. This is especially noticeable in adult men, who're particularly suffering at this current time, where the overwhelming 'exhalation' definitive of Mercury and Soul overtakes them, and they, in their polluted environments, try to forcibly elicit the parasympathetic nervous system, to escape from their constant sympathetic nervous system activation.

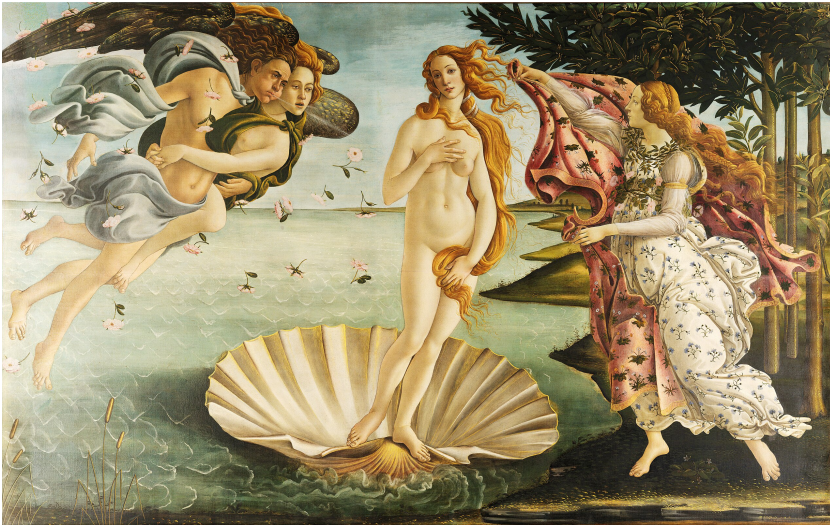

Yes, this is one of many applications of the 'no rest for the wicked' line.

Inner Monologue

Usually when one is thinking in terms of words privately, he is using the sacred planet of communication, Mercury.

Importance of Venus

According to Sandro Botticelli's 'Birth of Venus' painting Venus came from Lilith (Black Moon) and Samael (Black Sun).

It has been said Venus' entry into the planetary cosmos extended the year by 4 days, extending the year from 360 days (as in 360 degrees of a circle, or zodiacal wheel) to 364 or 365 (dependent on the year). This caused havoc in the cosmos and may have been the cause of the precessional slippage, and therefore the reason for the difference between sidereal and Tropical astrology. The brilliance of Pope Gregory XIII changing the calendar, in net effect, ensured that the Numerology of Birth dates would remain valid despite the extension of the original 360-day year. Venus refers to sacred consciousness of the 5th Ray, truth/concrete Science. It is the feminine aspect of the Rays and holds a distinct love for form, beauty, transcendental idealism, music, and truth (both scientific and transcendent). It is the highest transcendent love for the world (matter) when in the 3rd chakra. It is the highest frequency of the atomic infernal realms located in the solar plexus, of which humanity must truly conquer in order to progress.

The current ordering of Chakras is a perfect reflection of the planetary speed of progression in the firmament. Even though Venus is higher capacitance potential (cognitively, measured through amplitude and frequency) than Jupiter, Jupiter is far slower in progression through the signs and thus, when one is born, Jupiter governs the 6th chakra and Venus governs the 3rd chakra. Note- it is the 6th Chakra personality type who will be esoterically ruling the Age of Aquarius, since, irrespective of the 6th chakras transplantation and expression through Venus or Jupiter, the 6th chakra is esoterically ruled by Aquarius universally. That is, Jupiter in Aquarius (if on the 6th chakra) is esoteric Ruler, or Venus in Aquarius (if on the 6th Chakra) is esoteric Ruler. If a 6th chakra type has not done the transplantation, his most powerful planets will be Jupiter (symbolised by the Holy Cross and the Crescent Moon), Saturn (Same) and Mercury (man like being with horns, with the Holy Cross and Crescent Moon). In relation to the crescent Moon and Holy Cross, is that the crescent Moon itself is visually analogous (and potentially functionally) to the horns.

Venus and the Egyptian Ankh

The Egyptian Ankh is identical to Venus' astrological symbol. If the cross is a symbol of masculinity and the circle is a symbol of the feminine, then the astrological symbol of Venus must therefore be the androgyne, the Soul in its pre-incarnation state before it was split). It therefore has a correspondence with the Soul and 'twin flame' romantic attachments (or former attachments), hence why Venus is said to be distinctly linked to 'Love' (despite being a 5th Ray, concrete science/truth expression). In modern times, it has been said that mans thumbs, symbolised by Venus in Palmistry are the primary trait that accelerated our evolution, instantiating us as the dominant species.

Ruling deities of the Age of Aquarius?

Pluto and Mercury in the coming age of Aquarius would be the 2 most prominent planets, since they're both exalted. For the transplanted Man, 2 other planets will be exalted. If you want to find out what these planets are, go to esotericlight.com

Sun signs and Detrimental Dignities

All Sun signs automatically indicate two other significant planets. I.e Sun in Aquarius guarantees Earth in Leo in the same degree and (almost certainly) Vulcan in Aquarius (slightly above or below its own degree, but never exceeding 8 degrees either way).

Sun in Aquarius

One may be upset they're Sun in Aquarius, 'detrimented' on the exoteric, esoteric, Hierarchical levels, however, Vulcan in Aquarius is Hierarchical Ruler (direct) and Earth is in joy in Leo. This is an extremely high capacitance, and benevolent position with 3 diverse expressions of the 5th Ray of concrete Truth/Science in both – and + polarities with the addition of the 1st Ray of will from Leo. Indeed, Saint Thomas Aquinas and many Philosophers, Scientists, Novelists, Writers, and geniuses of great contribution have been of this sign. If your Soul evolution is of high capacity, then regardless of planetary dignity, whether it be fall, detriment, joy, rulers, exalt, they will all be in depth expressions.

"The fault, dear Brutus, lies not in our Stars".

-Julius Caesar, by William Shakespeare

If one wants their child to have an Earth focus (at the exclusion of Vulcan and Sun which will both be in opposition to earth) it would be best to choose a Sun sign that is – polarity (detrimental or fall in sun and Vulcan) but + polarity (rulership, exaltation and joy) in Earth. Thus, Sun in Cancer would be a great choice (since Sun and Vulcan in Cancer is detriment, but Earth in Capricorn is Exalted). In the mutable Sun signs, Sagittarius is the most universally dignified. Sun is in joy, Vulcan (direct) is in joy, Earth is in Hierarchical Rulership. Sun in Virgo similarly, has Sun in joy, Vulcan in esoteric ruler, and Earth in joy. Sun, and Vulcan in Pisces is the most detrimental in its universal polarity of all the mutable signs (unless Vulcan is in retrograde, where it becomes an esoteric ruler).

Vulcan?

While Sun and Earth never retrograde or become stationary, Vulcan does. Vulcan in Aquarius is indeed Hierarchical ruler, however when retrograde it becomes detrimental on the Hierarchical level. In such a case, the only dignified + polarity for a Sun in Aquarius would be Earth in Leo. Similarly, if you want your child to have a dignified Vulcan focus, Sun in Taurus is detrimental on the level of joy, but for the exoteric and esoteric ruler of Vulcan, and + polarity of Earth in Scorpio.

Importance of Mars

Mars is material devotion and in many significant figures through history, it is almost always joy in Leo in the natal chart, or Fall in Cancer.

Why?

The benefits and upside of (dignified) joy in material devotion is axiomatic, and electrifying in initiating action (Fiery Leo, with its 1st Ray of will and 5th Ray of Concrete Science). Extrapolated to an entire lifetime, the benefits are infinite.

The interesting question is why Mars in Cancer?

Mars in Cancer operates as extremely high capacitance (fall) perception through mass consciousness, Cancers mode of right hemispheric, Di electric cardinal perception. But the natal placement itself is not the primary reason that is sought after. It is sought after because due to its undignified fall, it will be bypassed for the other Mars placements in the astral, mental and Innermost charts. This bypass, perceiving the planetary god of war, (Mars) will soften and Divinise its influence.

Why would activating a planet outside of the physical (natal) chart Divinise the expression of that planet?

The astral, mental and Innermost charts are primarily to be used for understanding the Divine, and the physical chart is primarily used for understanding the physical world around us. The astral, mental and innermost Mars will likely be dominant since they will include either Taurus, Gemini, Cancer (R) (exalt), or Leo in any of their directions. Mars in Cancer (R) is exalted, Mars in Gemini direct is detrimental but unconscious unity (mutable) in pure 2nd Ray expression will thus be automatically activated at the first sign of unconsciousness in the individual. Mars in Taurus (R) is Ruling on the exoteric, and esoteric level.

Note- the mutable and immutable signs (unconscious signs), are immensely important since they represent the frequencies of consciousness when an individual switches off his conscious mind, entering into the unconscious. Equally and oppositely, the conscious signs are important since they represent the frequencies when unconsciousness is shut off, but given that humanity is 97% unconscious throughout the day, the unconscious is more significant. There is also an inherent benefit to having Mars undignified and in detriment (not 'fall'), such as Mars in Taurus and Gemini. Detriment functions in a diffusion of the whole and is readily activated in individuals, it is the place people relax to escape from the chaos of their exalted, and rulership (joy is usually not too chaotic) planets. If people find rest in Mars, the planet of war, motion, assertiveness, action and devotion in the material world, then this is a good condition likely to lead to positive consistent, daily and lifelong habits and practices. Mars in Cancer in the natal is also valuable because it links up the 6th (Mars) and 7th (Cancer) Rays, creating a three-fold combination of extremely high capacitance (fall) right hemispheric di electric (Cancer) Intellect, Devotion and Illumination.

Jupiter and Saturn

Jupiter and Saturn are both planetary frequencies one receives. Potentially, therefore, this is application of the symbol of the twin (alien) antennae that receive signals. When one acquires full access to Jupiter and Saturn consciousness, contentment, liberation and reassurance is felt.

Key conceptual difference between Jupiter and Saturn

Jupiter- Immediate Bad, Greater Good.

Saturn- Immediate Good, Greater Bad.

or

Jupiter- The ends justify the means

Saturn- The ends don't justify the means

The villain may say:

‘Saturn for me, Jupiter for thee’.

Analogy

Jupiter is represented by Thanos from Marvels the 'Avengers' making cold, but (on the surface) logical points that unless we wipe 50% of humanity the world will be destroyed. Far seeing, he realizes 50% wiped out today, is superior to 100% wiped out tomorrow. He is the anthropomorphism of the Shiva concept that destruction is necessary to the preservation of creation. He is the archetypal villain of nearly every super-hero movie. Saturn is represented by those who seek vengeance (the 'Avengers'), who say 'we must save everybody; this is pure evil'. Compromise was ultimately found between the two (as is manifest in our planet now) that 50% of humanity will not die, but all people will have a direct impact on their mortality based entirely on cause and effect. Diet, drug use, sincerity in Spirituality, thoughts, actions, can lead to flourishing or extinction. Humanity must save themselves while they still have the capacity for free will.

However, make no mistake, between 2025-2040 there will be cataclysms, and a death toll in the billions.

Importance of Jupiter

Jupiter consciousness is the Freudian non-material Id (the Moon being the Freudian material id) consciousness. It is that which perceives the greater good and that all is interconnected. It is the 6th Chakra for the vast majority of humanity, and corresponds to the Pituitary gland. It manifests through the Ray of Wisdom/Love. In the Roman, and Greek Pantheons Jupiter/Zeus was the King of kings, the Lord Jupiter/ Zeus' association with lightning strikes is reflective of the sudden Illumination that gets thrust down on individuals and enlightens (or kills) them. Indeed, the pituitary body is referred to as the 'Master Gland'. This frequency of consciousness is the precise frequency that was limited in many by environmental conditions. Jupiter also holds the key to our Spiritual Purpose, how one accomplishes this is revealed through ones Spirit (Descendant) and this signs Hierarchical Ruler. That is applicable to that individual chart only. Each of the 4 charts will have a different Sabian expression of Jupiter, and likely different signs. Its house position also reveals the greatest potential to achieve this Spiritual purpose. It reveals the highest opportunity for sacred distribution of love/wisdom consciousness through its sign, degrees, aspects and interactions with other signs. Thus, an Aries Moon who gains access to Libra Jupiter will use the material Freudian id nature of the Moon to harmonise and balance the sacred love/wisdom of the non-material Freudian id, Jupiter. A sextile with Venus in Sagittarius (R) will now add an esoteric rulership left hemispheric perception of sacred truth to sacred love/wisdom and have beautiful manifestations serving the Souls higher functions.

Note, Venus, Saturn and Mercury are not typically going to serve Jupiters highest good, since Mercury, Venus and Saturn are not naturally harmonising or 'friendly' with Jupiter. In fact, from Jupiters point of view, Mercury and Venus are enemies, and Moon, Sun and Mars are their friends. However, from Venus, Saturn and Mercurys point of view, Jupiter is neutral.

Importance of Saturn

Saturn is the Grim Reaper, the 'Dread Lord of darkness', planet of death, karma, cynically referred to by some as a type of project Soul catcher through Soul manipulation of cause and effect (you reap what you sow). Saturns positive polarity however, is Santa Claus. Indeed 'you reap what you sow' is expressed through Santa Claus. Every child is told:

'If you're good all year, Santa will give you lots of presents.

How does the song go?

'He sees you when you're sleeping
he knows when you're awake he knows if you've been bad or good so be good for goodness' sake!'.

The above also implies Saturn is the 'All-seeing eye'.

This is the planet of sacred Intellect that readily perceives the pillars of creation and corresponds to the Crown Chakra at the top of the head (Cerebrum), and the Pineal Gland. It is the third eye in some ideologies, the pituitary gland in others, and the optic thalamus in others still, but it is the Cerebrum and Pineal Gland. Cere-Bram (Aries Ram) is closely associated with Saturn because Aries inherently (when retrograde) is exalted in Saturn (when expressed through the 7th chakra). Like Jupiter, it is a reception of consciousness. It is high capacitance frequency (as indeed all the descriptions of the Crown Chakra describe) and it is the thousand petal lotus that amplifies consciousness a thousand-fold. This is why the illuminated ones wear 'Crowns' on their head covering their crown on the location of the biological 'crown' of the head. Indeed, some religions (Catholic monks, Jewish Kippahs, Sikh turbans, Muslim veils for both women and men, etc.) cover this anatomical part because it is recognized as a sacred centre of consciousness, easily influenced and potentially corrupted. It is covered because it, along with the 5th and 6th chakra centres are entry gates and portals for astral entities/demons.

Saturn is also the planet of limitation and restriction.

How?

It might seem strange to associate Saturn with restriction when the subjective consciousness multiplies things a thousand-fold, however that's precisely it. What was invisible and out of a line ment to the lower capacitance frequency planets i.e. Moons capacitance limit is suddenly keenly perceived well before the 100th of the 1000+ fold expansion. It is seeing the 'edge' in the cation (education) we're engulfed by, defining clear boundaries. Its aim is to simplify and distil essential teachings from chaos. So, this distillation requires first a drastic expansion of subjective consciousness. Restrictions expression is the realisation that there may be 2 trillion galaxies beyond this one (when one previously thought his galaxy was the one and only) but there is not more than this. Thus, it is described as limiting, but to those whom believe their galaxy is all there ever was and will be, they're nearly 2 trillionx more limited, so who is more limited? These expansions (that are in its net effect restrictions) take form financially, romantically, physically, dharma wise, basically all the lessons we're here to learn in Karma is what will be affected. The signs Ray qualities, and Sabian degree reveals what the Soul is seeking to develop, to grow individually and collectively, serving the greater good with non-sacred material (worldly) application.

Why is the black cube associated with Saturn?

Images of the wanderer show a Black cube in the centre. The black nature must be a reference to its dark polarity, its dark force, since it will kill you (as the Grim Reaper) if you reek personal, and collective destruction. It will also deeply reward you if you're positive in these two things through your actions and thoughts ('faith and works').

Horned signs:

Aries, Taurus, Capricorn.

It's important to note that all 3 horned signs are immensely powerful Saturnine positions in all 3 directions, exclusively in the left hemisphere.

-Capricorn (direct) is exoteric and esoteric ruler

-Aries (R) is exalted

-Taurus (st) is exoteric and esoteric ruler, co-equal with Capricorn.

Saturns elemental preference:

Saturns preference is for stable, intellectual elements (Earth and Air) when direct and stationary, and unstable elements (fire and Water) when retrograde. Every single Earth and air sign has a + Essential dignity polarity when direct and stationary, and every single Fire and Water sign has a – Essential Dignity polarity when direct and stationary. This trend flips when retrograde.

Saturn is a slow-moving planet and remains retrograde many months consecutively (4-5 months), so unlike the retrograde motion in a lower capacitance, faster moving planet, it affects millions of people over a large swath of time, almost having an equal influence with direct motion on humanity. So, almost half of humanity will have a retrograde Saturn in their natal chart, and therefore almost all of humanity has a retrograde Saturn in one of their 4 charts. Furthermore, Saturns exaltation signs (when expressed through the 7th chakra) are Libra, Aquarius (st), and Aries (R). Thus, Saturns optimal manifesting Rays (accompanying its 3rd Ray), is a numerologically significant and symmetrical 1st, 3rd 5th and 7th Ray alongside its 3rd Ray, which means Saturn's optimally expressed (exaltation) through air and fire. So, rather than assigning Saturns symbol as the 'goat', perhaps the most appropriate symbol would be Libras balancing scales, Aquarius' electric current, or emptying of water from the vessel of truth onto humanity, and the horns of the Ram of Aries. It is exalted in expression through 2 magnetic right hemispheric signs (air) and through 1 electric left-hemispheric sign (fire). The Rays for all these signs form a symmetrical pattern of the complete expression of exclusively odd number Rays. 1st and 7th Rays (Aries), 3rd Ray (Libra), 5th Ray (Aquarius).

Saturn and the Pineal Gland

Rene Descartes, the 18th century French philosopher, stated that

“The Pineal Gland is the seat of the Soul.”

Indeed, it is the seat for the Soul (that Eatheric controller of our vessel) because it can accurately delegate tasks to the relevant planets when need be. Yes, each planet will be used at their appropriate time and ideal manifest application and expression when Saturn is the control seat of your vessel, operated by your Soul.

Intellectual signs?

In the strictest sense, those signs that possess the 3rd Ray of Intellect are the most intellectual signs. They are Ophiuchus, Libra, Cancer and Capricorn, with Eather, air, water and earth all with the 3rd Ray. In an elemental sense, all the air signs are the most intellectual, followed by earth signs. These two elements predominant in ones astrological charts is a good sign for grounded, analytical intellect and intuitional common sense. However, this is not to diminish fire and water, for water is the faith required for growth and expansion of earth, and fire is the energising aspect and application for airs ubiquitousness.

How is Air (disintegration) intellectual?

Air is intellectual because through integrative synthesis, it disintegrates the illusion of division. Through synthesis, it synthetically synthesises multiple disparate elements into a conglomerate.

Importance of Uranus

Uranus is the sacred perception of Illumination. Uranus, alongside Neptune and Pluto is not a stream of consciousness one 'receives'. For the majority of humanity, they are outside of oneself (corresponding and received by no particular biological chakra), that an individual has to 'reach up' to. It is that heavenly, high capacitance streams of consciousness which (anatomically) transcends worldly influence and correspondence. Uranus is related to rebellion against worldly systems that contradict the Divine, immutable and eternal. Therefore, worldly (material) influence (Lunar consciousness) is precisely why the Moon is said to veil Uranus, and Uranus veils the Moon.

Uranus connection to Pisces

Uranus' astrological symbol looks like a key unlocking and separating (or locking and binding) the cord connecting the two fish of Pisces. In doing so, it creates a Holy Cross, two Islamic crescent Moons and an inverted Egyptian Ankh. Therefore, perhaps it symbolizes the notion that sacred Illumination consciousness (Uranus) can either separate/ liberate or bind/lock disparate entities and the 'key' is contemplative realisation achieved through attuning to its sacred perception. Indeed, to attune to it, requires one to invert their consciousness from the lowest biological root (Moon), to the first planet outside of any biological chakra correspondence. Applying Uranus' planetary motion to its symbol of the key and its potential motion, if Uranus' directional motion is counter-clockwise (retrograde) it liberates and frees the two fish, since Uranus (R) in Pisces is exoteric ruler, and when direct, clockwise motion it is exoterically detrimental. The key locks, binding them. However, when the key remains as it is (stationary) Uranus in Pisces is exalted and keeps the two fish bound to one another, having the opportunity for both connection and liberation. This is a particularly important observation since the Age of Pisces is sidereally reigning.

Two fish?

Is it two fish, or two crescent Moons? Could it be two crescent Moons of opposing polarities (Moon, and Black Moon Lilith). Pisces therefore connects and binds both to express through its unconscious unity electromagnetic expressions of Love/Wisdom, and Devotion? We know Black Moon Lilith in Pisces (st) is exalted, and Moon in Pisces is in joy.

Thus, the Pisces sign may esoterically unite the left and right-hand paths. The latter half of Pisces Sabian degrees (15-29) signifies the Black Moon, and the former half (0-14) signifies the Moon. Furthermore, if either one of these crescent Moons is rotated 90 degrees, they will form the 'horns' identical to the horns of Mercurys symbol on top of man. Therefore, Uranus may be the 'key' to unlocking the connection of the White and Black Moon, as well as the key in binding them.

Importance of Neptune

Neptune is the sacred 6th Ray of Devotion. It is a Divine and glorious planet with beautiful manifest expressions in the world. Indeed, some of the highest art, poetry, music, and Spiritual figures can attribute a great portion of their talent to this sacred planet of Devotion and imagination. It is also considered to be the planet of illusion, and can make one see clearly, or blind minds. It gives one Spiritual faith and belief, and endurance to overcome external material hardship. It makes one a 'visionary' who can see the end goal before they start. Neptune in the Roman Pantheon was the water deity with the trident, And Poseidon in the Greek Pantheon. Indeed, one cannot help but notice that the trident he has is identical to the supposed trident of the 'Devil'. This trident is identical to the trident of Shiva in the Hindu pantheon, known as 'the Destroyer', who destroys worlds in order to recreate them (the concept that destruction is necessary for the preservation of creation). Neptune was exalted in the Age of Pisces since it was the home planet of the 3rd Chakra (see page 182), Pisces exaltation chakra.

The significance of the trident to Neptune is reflected in its astrological Symbol.

Importance of Pluto

Pluto is one of the most important planets. There are prominent esoteric schools of thought that place 'Will' above 'Truth', indeed above everything. Indeed, many place Pluto at the top of the ten Sephiroth, and esoteric astrologers place Pluto as the first planet of the first Ray (Will). Pluto is most compatible with Mercury and Saturn in a conjunction, trine, sextile, tying sacred conceptual Illumination, Intellect with material Will. Pluto also has a special status as the slowest moving planet, and therefore, in relation to the individual astrological charts, is in the tightest (having the lowest numerical range) conjunction to itself in all 4 astrological charts, uniting ones Innermost, mental, astral and physical forces together in a powerful conjunction.

Importance of the Outer planets (Uranus, Neptune, Pluto)

The outer planets primary benefic function lies in their ability to unite all 4 astrological charts in a tight or conjunction of consciousness. Our Innermost (first release), mental (conception), astral (quickening) and physical (natal) charts always gain the individual access to outer consciousness planets either individually (all 4 Pluto Sabian expressions, all 4 Neptune Sabian expressions etc.) or in aspectual combinations (Uranus and Neptune in an aspectual relationship) dependent on an individuals astrological charts. Since the physical is used to deal with the material world, and the astral, mental and Innermost charts are for understanding the Divine, uniting all 4 in a close conjunction creates fertile ground for doing the 'Divine will on earth'. Having two or one of these 3 slow moving planets in a biological chakra would be ideal, and can be achieved through transplantation.

You can see all 3 planets are in a tight conjunction with themselves in all other charts. Uranus is in a moderately tight conjunction with itself in all charts, Neptune is in a tighter conjunction with all other Neptunes, and Pluto is in the tightest conjunction with other Plutos. The inner planets, however, are almost always never in a conjunction (excluding Saturn), since they're fast-moving. Therefore, we can receive sacred Illumination, Devotion and material Will on a physical, astral, mental and Innermost level simultaneously. When these planets are in one of our dominant 4 chakras, it is a tremendous blessing of powerful cognition across all 4 astrological charts.

Note on Black Sun/Rahu and Black Moon Lilith.

Black Sun is the non-sacred planet of the 7th Ray and Black Moon Lilith is the non-sacred 5th Ray. Black Sun is exalted in Taurus (sign of the Bull). The Black Moon (Feminine) is exalted in Scorpio and Ophiuchus, the opposite sign of Black Sun (masculine) in Taurus. Opposites attract, united in their dark (black) nature and identical 4th Rays (though with the addition of 3rd and 6th Rays). The 4th Ray of Physical Development is the singular Ray expression of both Taurus and Scorpio, and this is achieved through Intellect and Devotion (Ophiuchus).

Importance of the Liliths (Black Moon, Dark Moon, Asteroid)

Lilith symbolises the raw emotional part of us that yearns for certain desires. It's (often) unconventional and goes against society in its expression so is usually suppressed and persecuted. It is symbolic of assertiveness based on concrete truth (non-sacred 5th Ray), remaining true to oneself. Yes indeed, this is 'Lily Potter' and 'Lily Moon' who later became 'Luna Lovegood' in Harry Potter, the omnipresent archetype of the mystic Lunar female.

There are 3 Liliths-

Black Moon Lilith

Dark Moon Lilith

Asteroid Lilith

This means across all 4 astrological charts there is 12 distinct Liliths with differing signs, elements and Sabian degrees. The difference between each is actually a beautiful story board and allegorical path to personal transformation-

Asteroid Lilith- Lilith in Eden, that place where one feels restricted, imprisoned. That which one must escape (Karma).

Dark Moon Lilith- The key to escape, the necessary step for courageous, concrete action to pursue your deepest desires (Dharma).

Black Moon Lilith- Desired and yearned for final destination, what one really wants, Soul liberation (Moksha).

According to the iconic painting from the Italian Renaissance by Raphael, the ‘Serpent’ in the garden of Eden was Lilith. (See ‘Adam and Eve, from the ‘Stanza Della Signatura’, 1511).

The importance of Sirius

Sirius ‘the dog star’ is symbolised by the greyhound. It is the bright morning star, 25x brighter than the Sun. Indeed, it is the brightest star in the firmament. It has a black light colour polarity. Accordingly, seriousness is a trait of Sirius, and seeing the harsh truth/reality. Many who have come face to face with the ruler of our world have been traumatised by the ‘deathly serious’ look in his ‘blazing eyes’. Sirius is ideally expressed through Cardinal conscious unity water (dielectric rest) of Cancer 14. This is what was intended, exemplified by its placement in the Tropical charts, and consciousness portion of humanity. However, sidereally it applies through unconscious mutable air (motion) in Gemini 20. Sirius will therefore, eventually transition into Taurus and then Aries, marking the shift from right hemisphere (Cancer, Gemini) to left hemisphere (Taurus, Aries) consciousness. Sirius is ideally placed in a harmonious relationship with Saturn. This is taught to us implicitly through the Christmas tree, where at the top, symbolic of the 7th or Crown chakra on man, Sirius is placed. Indeed Sopdet, the Egyptian goddess of Sirius is depicted having this exact star on her crown chakra. Sirius is also positively aspected with the Sun, uniting two traditional 'enemy' planets (Sun and Saturn).

Ma'at and Sirius?

Ma'at was said to be the deification of the star Sirius by the Dogon tribes. She was the goddess of truth, cosmic balance and justice. This could then imply that Eather may emerge from Sirius since it was Ma'at who provided the feather for which hearts were to be weighed against.

What about those who have truth as their light?

This demographic uses the sacred or non-sacred 5th Ray of concrete science/truth as their light, the sacred planetary consciousness expression being Venus and Black Moon Lilith). The 5th ray signs express itself through both conscious (Aquarius, Leo) but also unconscious (Sagittarius) signs. This is a balance where the higher elements (fire and air) are intimately compatible with and express truth. This would correspond with Lakshmi, Mary Magdalene, Venus, etc. The combination of Venus and Sirius is certainly possible with a Trine, sextile or conjunction.

Chapter 5 - The Age of Pisces and humanity in the Age of Aquarius and Beyond

Age of Pisces

Pisces in all planets expresses itself through its inherent Love/Wisdom and Devotion (2nd and 6th Rays). The 4 planets it is exalted in are

Venus (Direct)

Uranus (Stationary)

Black Moon Lilith (Stationary)

Mercury (Retrograde)

However, for those who have done transplantations, the 4 exalted planets will be different in differing motions.

Ask yourself- is Truth, Illumination, Physical Development and rebelling in order to attain liberation, becoming a true warrior for the tomorrow war scenario, ultimately advocating (privately, not en masse) for peace and thus becoming a 'world saviour' through actions not the most important goals for human evolution in this (sidereal) Age? One should be devoted to seeking Wisdom and expressing love in Physical Development, Truth/Science in order to illuminate the reality and pursue that which we most desire.

Exalted planets are not the only important dignities, though they are the most imminent for us to focus on as they encompass and activate the most dimensions in the positive polarity of rulership. All dignities are important, and all are necessary to the functioning of the whole.

Pisces dignities (Direct)

Moon- Joy

Mercury- Detriment/Fall

Venus- Exalt

Sun- Detriment

Vulcan- Esoteric Detriment

Earth- Joy

Mars- Joy

Jupiter- Exoteric Ruler

Saturn- Detriment

Uranus- Detriment

Neptune- Exoteric Ruler

Pluto- Esoteric Ruler

It is worth contemplating how the detrimental, and in particular, the fallen planets (in all directions) are expressed. Ask yourself, referencing Pisces exalted planets, is outward communication of ideas relating two distinct concepts (Mercury) promoted or suppressed in this era? You will find the exact motionary expression of the planet (stationary, retrograde or direct) to be promoted and harmoniously aligned with in its expression, and the opposite outcome if expressed in any other direction.

Pisces Fallen planets

Mercury

Venus (Retrograde)

This concept can be applied to the upcoming sidereal Aquarian Age too-

The Two Comings of the Age of Aquarius (past and future):

The Age of Aquarius begun for the Tropical portion of humanity on February, 1962. However, that means for the billions of the sidereal consciousness on the planet, the sidereal Age of Pisces is still reigning.

If you want to learn how to depart from the sidereal, and align with the Tropical consciousness, go to esotericlight.com

What will the Aquarian Age look like?

The Age of Aquarius will be the Age of Illumination (See home planet in Chapter 10), since Uranus will be the Exoteric Ruler for the vast majority, but whose home planet is Uranus, the sacred 7th Ray planet of Illumination. Its (Tropical) onset coincided with the widespread distribution of advanced technology, especially computers, and the internet.

Regarding the sidereal Age of Aquarius, others have proposed that it will align with man becoming symbiotic with machines, 'smart cities' 'social credit systems', 'digital Cryptocurrency'. Some say that this is only a precondition to create the way for the sidereal Age of Aquarius.

Age of Aquarius themes

Certainly, the Tropical Age of Aquarius has seen the rise of technology, knowledge, Truth, Concrete Science and gender consciousness and restructuring.

Age of Aquarius (Exalted Planets)

Mercury (direct)

Pluto (direct)

Saturn (st)

This could imply that sacred Physical Development (Mercury) achieved through material Will (Pluto) and sacred Intellect (Saturn) may be socially taught and accepted. Certainly, we can see how since the Tropical Age of Aquarius this precise issue has been brought front and centre to humanity. Furthermore, note that to compliment sacred Physical Development (Mercury), material Physical Development (Moon) will be ruling through Hierarchical 4-dimensional perception (Aquarius' essential dignity in Moon). Hierarchical essential dignity is the second highest dimensional perception behind exaltation, and Moon (or the 1st chakra) is ruled Hierarchically.

Importantly- In addition to the exalted planets, Aquarius (unlike almost every other sign) has many positive planetary dignities in the main 12 planets (direct)

10 Exalt

Aquarius is almost entirely a + polarity in every sacred consciousness planet (when direct), and the missing Neptune is retrograde for (around) 5 months out of any year where it functions powerfully as the exoteric and esoteric ruler simultaneously. The Age of Aquarius, in contrast to the Age of Pisces that was in joy in Moon, Earth, Mars, and esoterically ruled Pluto is dominated by sacred consciousness perception, though with a suppression of outward expression of Sacred Devotion (Neptune). This, much like Mercury in Pisces was during the Age of Pisces will likely be persecuted for external (public) displays of sacred Devotion. This persecution of external (direct motion) sacred Devotional expression is likely why communism has persecuted public worship of religion.

Communism?

Communism is strongly aligned with Aquarian Ideology, and thus the Age of Aquarius. The reason why Communism has never worked thus far, is the world is almost entirely composed of sidereal humanity, and therefore, a humanity still operating under the Age of Pisces and out of alignment with Aquarian ideological values. Therefore, every attempted (often through violent, and bloody revolutions) instantiation of Communism, has been unsuccessful. The few unsuspecting, idealistic voters, who, while often having altruistic, utopian desires, are outnumbered by voters with deeply entrenched selfish motives for personal gain (greed) and vengeance (wrath) to tear down those that have that which they covet (envy). In other words, negative, black light, unconscious motives symbolic of the dark expression of Pisces. As the wealth disparity in our world increases, Communism becomes an inevitable certainty.

‘The future is Female’ in Aquarius.

The notion that ‘the future is female’ is an undeniable, universal motion felt worldwide right now. It is a necessary precondition and stepping stone for the formation of the Age of Aquarius, and indeed since the 1960s (the onset of the Tropical Age of Aquarius) it ramped up and is reflected in multiple facets of society.

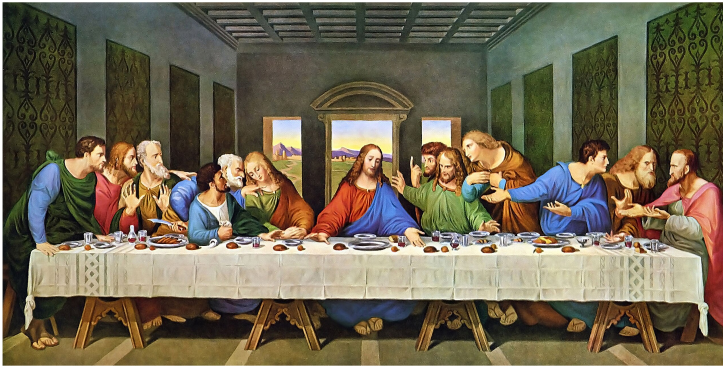

Why?

Aquarius is the only truly female sign, being the only sign to have a singular feminine Ray (5th) with no masculine or androgynous Ray counterbalance. It is the only sign in the entire zodiac to have this ‘exclusively feminine’ status. In the past the Age of Libra and Gemini, with their singular masculine Rays, were likely masculine domination. However, when referencing the supposed ‘patriarchal’ Age of Pisces, this Age saw hundreds of millions of ‘patriarchs’ (Men) slaughtered at war, while women were universally exempt, protected and saved. Perhaps therefore, like men, women will be ‘tested’ during the current Tropical age, and thus dominated by the system, but, like the Age of Pisces, will have the external appearance of ‘dominating’.

Consider Leonardo Da Vincis ‘the Last Supper’, where everybody at the

How do we know the Lady in question represents Aquarius?

Notice on the table of the Last Supper, there are 13 distinct figures. Jesus is not the Sun, but the anthropomorphism of the constellation Pisces, and all the other figures represent the 12 remaining Zodiac signs. The Sun is symbolically represented by that half circle above the window directly in line with Pisces and the white light coming through the window is representative of magnetic Eather (called 'light' in Eastern esotericism), that which the Sun transmits. Both are directly in line with Pisces, symbolic that Sun is in the Age of Pisces. Jesus is privileged in the centre due to the sidereal (and Tropical) Sun being in the Age of Pisces during Da Vincis era (late 1400s). Moving left to right this painting represents the figures moving in a clockwise rotation on the zodiacal wheel. Jesus represents Pisces, the next figures to our right is Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo and Virgo. On the farthest to our left, you see Libra, Scorpio, Ophiuchus, Sagittarius (the fiery accuser) Capricorn and Aquarius. The most startling revelation most often unnoticed, is that, according to this painting, it is not Virgo, but Aquarius who has been discovered as the woman that is the only woman at the table. In fact, she's being accused by Sagittarius who discovers with horror her missing Adams apple.

How could this be?

The Ray expression makes Aquarius the only exclusively feminine sign in the entire Zodiac. It is a 5th Ray sign, and all Rays above the androgynous 4th (5th, 6th and 7th) are feminine. All other signs have a composite of both the masculine and feminine expressionary Rays, exclusively masculine, or exclusively androgynous. The exclusively masculine signs are also part of the same element as Aquarius, showing that air in itself is only a composite of feminine and masculine, with no androgyny, a fact shared only by Eather. Therefore, Da Vinci sought to anthropomorphise this reality. One has to wonder, whether this means that Aquarius symbol should not be 'the Man holding the pitcher of Water', but 'The woman bearing the pitcher of Water'. Indeed, this now sounds like a woman about to give birth whose waters are about to break, and Aquarius functions to distribute truth for liberation and relief unto the world. Could Mary Magdalene therefore be Aquarius and not Virgo? If it is simply a woman distributing truth then this application is currently running in our world today, on publicly celebrated levels.

Why do women bare this responsibility?

Because the feminine Rays (5th, 6th and 7th) are Truth/ Concrete Science, Devotion, and Illumination. So, on all those fields, it is they who universally distribute it, not men. Men consume it, since they are proficient in the masculine Rays (1st, 2nd, 3rd) which represent Will, Love/Wisdom and Intellect. The masculine Rays yearn for the feminine, and the feminine yearn for the masculine. That is, the masculine Rays of Will, Love/Wisdom, Intellect, yearn for Truth, Devotion and Illumination. Feminine is Truth, Devotion and Illumination, and yearns for Will, Love/ Wisdom and Intellect. The male and female meet halfway on the 4th Androgynous Ray of Physical Development. As Bailey stated, Aquarius and Pisces are the most recent additions to the zodiac. It is very clear that the zodiac signs have formed groups of 3, and Pisces and Aquarius are indeed the 'new members' in this painting (even though Aquarius seems to have joined with Sagittarius and Capricorn). Could this image represent the scandal of the androgynous and masculine signs discovering (with horror) that an exclusively feminine sign 'snuck' through? Certainly, it appears that way. Furthermore, notice Pisces and Aquarius together create a V shape with a vertical pillar running through the centre? This symbol could be Da Vincis implication of a romantic relationship between Jesus and Mary Magdalene. V is a sacred letter because it is the 22nd letter of the Latin alphabet, it is among the most sacred numbers possible alongside, 11, 33 and other Master numbers. Notice too that the year of this paintings release (1498) sums to the master number 22. 22 is universally denoted as the number of the 'Master Architect'.

Merging of Christianity and Islam in the Age of Aquarius?

I would draw your attention to the astrological symbols for Jupiter, Saturn, Mercury, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto and observe that these symbols have the components of both the Islamic crescent moon and Christian Holy cross. I will make a prediction not, for that would be divination. These planets constitute 50% of the main 12 planets, but there are many more astrological planetary symbols with the two key symbols. This is no accident, and clear effort is put to make this so, since '4' and '5' (Jupiter and Saturns symbols) do not have these two elements simultaneously in standard notation in any font.

Indeed, how many symbols below can you find that have these two elements?

What would such a merger look like?

Political:

The Hammer and Sickle of Communism.

The universal symbol of Communism has the Islamic crescent moon and the Christian Holy cross, with Sirius (the ever-accompanying companion star) reigning its consciousness upon the nation. Sidereally Sirius will be in trine with the first 20 degrees (29-10 since Ages move in anticlockwise motion) degrees of the Age of Aquarius, therefore influencing (around) 1320 years of the Age from its onset, and likely more, since Sirius will precess (closer to Taurus).

New humanity?

There will be a recreation of humanity in the form of a new sub-race of our current Root race, termed 'Australo-American'. Very simply, this is an extension and continuation of what has already taken place in South America with a melting pot of all races. It is currently taking place in all Western nations (United States, Canada, Europe, Australia, New Zealand) where the tipping point guaranteeing its outcome occurred 20 years ago. After Western nations have completed this end, it will then be the only remaining continents, Asia and Africa, who will follow suite.

What are the characteristics of this new subrace?

This new subrace will be composed of all the races in the world.

All the races?

Yes, this new race will be a composite of Caucasian, Asian, and African.

“The Eurasian-Negroid race of the future will replace the diversity of peoples with a diversity of individuals”.

– Count Richard von Coudenhove-Kalergi, founder of the European Union (EU), 1925.

This composite will specifically include The Caucasians (Arabs, West Asians, North Africans, Persians, Indians and Europeans), Asians, (East Asians, South East Asians the Native people of South America, North America, Canada, Alaska, Greenland, Siberia, Northern Norway, Sweden, Finland, Polynesia, Micronesia) and finally with Native Africans, Western Hemisphere Africans (North, Central, South Americas, Caribbean, Canada), Melanesians and Australian Aborigines. Currently the Western world is near completion, and will finalize before the end of the 21st Century, hastened by cataclysms, natural disasters, famines, genocides and wars. The western hemisphere (The Americas, and Canada) will migrate vertically and the Amazonian, Spanish, Caribbean African (South/Central American) mestizos will mix with North American and Canadian Native, British, Pan European, and African mixes up North. This will be a uniting of the entire Western Hemisphere, North, Central and South, Arctic, Equatorial, and Antarctic. The former group will then horizontally blend with the Eastern hemisphere, the Australian mix of British-Pan Europeans, Indian, Middle Eastern, Chinese, Vietnamese, Polynesian, Sudanese and Australian native, and Melanesian populations. The central hemisphere, the European continent is very clearly destined to be a mix of European, Syrian, Pakistani, Chinese, Filipino, Sri Lankan and Central and West African migrants (as has already taken place).

Finally, once you mix the East, West and Central world hemispheres, who've all undergone and completed their own transformations, you will have the final end of Madame Blavatsky's 'Australo American' subrace. This worldwide blending seems to be a Divine decree, necessary for humanities transformation and next step in evolution.

Next step in evolution?

This new sub-race will:

“...possess certain psychic powers, and for this the pituitary body will be developed, thus giving an additional sense, that of cognising astral emotions in the ordinary waking consciousness. We may say that in general the sixth sub-race will bring in wisdom and intuition, blending all that is best in the intelligence of the fifth subrace and the emotion of the fourth”.

- Lieut.-Colonel Arthur E. Powell, Chapter 52, "The Solar System", Pituitary body?

The Pituitary gland corresponds to the 6th Chakra, and the 6th Chakra (regardless of which planet is expressing through it) is esoterically ruled by Aquarius. Thus, this development of the Pituitary body implies either an expansion of size and capacity in the biological structure, or that those who're not proficient in it will be wiped out, ultimately achieving the former end.

How?

Perhaps certain psychological experiments will test humanities proficiency in this body, when applied to real world scenarios with severe penalties. Remember only 15% of humanity (2nd, 6th and 7th chakra types) is proficient in the Pituitary body (6th chakra), and 40% of humanity has this biological structure as its weakness (3rd and 4th Chakra types), and another 45% has it as a neutral chakra (1st, 5th chakra types). Due to environmental pollutants all of the Western world (where this sixth subrace creation is currently in motion) is limited in access to the Pituitary body. For the 6th and 7th Chakra types they will still overwhelmingly not (comparatively, en masse) fall for the psychological experimentation since they have, through prior incarnations and innate Soul memory, the necessary ethics and common sense instantiated. However, for those chakra types who have lost access to this body that is neutral or enemy for them (85% of humanity) they will be utterly vulnerable. Therefore, it is likely the worst of these, the 3rd and 4th chakra types will constitute the overwhelming victims, and in the new Age, their chakra personality types will be the rarest, and the 6th and 7th will grow exponentially (constituting only 6% of the world population currently). However, important to note, the 3rd chakra will be Hierarchical Ruler in the Age of Capricorn, and thus, they will likely make a resurgence once more, made stronger from their Age of tribulation.

End times formula

Each successive generation getting morally worse (through Soul incarnation from subsequently lower planes due to compounding wrong practices, thoughts and lifestyle) is how the world engineers guarantee the cataclysm. However, in a sort of beautiful Hierarchical justice, in this way it affords every Soul the right to 'have their day on earth', and despite where it's incarnated from, have a second chance to choose to be moral and ascend or descend differently from whence it came.

However, the penalty for immorality is suffering (hell) before finally and eventually, after successive hellish Soul returns, a transformation of species. This transformation is in the vein that M. Blavatsky referenced in the true sequence of evolution that Darwin missed. Before this transformation occurs, that is not a mere adaptation, but the sum of multiple (that are the product of both internal biological adaption, and experimental genetic transformation), the sheer number of casualties lost to the host of other physical, mental and emotional vices will be staggering. The ones who 'go along to survive', are almost all doomed and destined to repeat and suffer worse than last time in the wide and open path towards destruction.

Note, Humanities current fallen state has unadulterated Venus consciousness located in the Solar plexus, a biological centre that 85% are proficient at, and 15% are neutral. Ironically, despite this, Venus consciousness expression is snuffed out in almost all society through social interaction (coercion), media conditioning and ultimately and finally, self-censorship. Go to any of the former empire regions (Egypt, Middle East, East Asia, Eastern Europe) and observe how much Venus consciousness is present. Overwhelmingly you'll find a dense, palpable Sirian and Moon/Sun quality. Their formerly lived 'great reset' was imposed in order to 'return to basics'. Much like the current Western one, it is those societies and all before them, who went so deep into material decadence, selfishness and ego, at the height of their (destructive and murderous) empires, where love of self, and money presided over the Sacred.

Note- from 2025-2040 we will see a monumental shift and destruction of the Western empire (American, Commonwealth, EU), in precise parallel and concordance to the fall of the former empires. This 'destruction' entails major cataclysms with a profound death toll.

'Resets'?

Resets are nothing more than the scheduled destruction of empires. They occur every sidereal Neptune in Pisces (150 or so years), and the current Western Civilisation is the latest victims on this long schedule. It's the universal funnel of proliferation. The few who survive have many children, their children have slightly less, until no one's having children and there's a great reset once more. The cause for this, despite what people believe, is not due to 'wealth', 'civilisation', and 'having nothing to worry about'. In net effect the average populations of '1st world' countries are far unhealthier physically, psychologically and spiritually than '2nd and 3rd world' nations due to environmental pollutants, lack of right practices, lack of charity, and immorality. It is the punishment for the selfishness, ego and decadence of their collective populations (despite individual exceptions). As a reward for surviving and going through their great reset, these former empires get a few cycles of rest, ideally for observation and reflection, watching other Empires rise and fall, before it's their turn once more. This is undeniable when you visit these countries, the Souls inhabiting the bodies have unmistakably undergone mass trauma, and have a deep Sirian humility, palpably absent in Western nations today.

Why?

The younger generations of collective Western Souls today are those whom have lived many incarnations in sophisticated spiritual embodiments, but through immorality descended. Their prior embodiments had right practices, benevolent governments, resulting and manifesting in their positive baseline Divine communion and contentment, and general overall trust toward material worldly authority (government). However, this baseline contentment of their Souls equilibrium is so at odds with the biopsychospiritual reality of their 'civilized' incarnation now, that they very often throw 'temper tantrums', that other Souls (who've lived through great resets) do not. The more they cultivate negative expressions and flee from the positive and the Divine, the further they get from ever liberating themselves and returning once more to the Divine path that leads to that baseline state they so desire. You can see how the mind is blinded or allowed to see clearly (through the veil of illusion). In the former case, the individuals are helpless and completely go lockstep with the crowd on that long and wide road to destruction. In the latter case, one can save themselves, their family, and potentially others (who're ready to hear it, and whose mind is not veiled). Therefore, the Sirian dominant consciousness, necessary to 'reset' humanity back to an acceptable moral foundation, is the consequence for the misuse of the Divine qualities gifted, and resulting cataclysms. If populations use their heightened Divine perception to justify evil and sacrifice their will to that of material, worldly authority, they're first on the chopping block.

Are Root races qualitatively different in consciousness? Were the Atlanteans always considered proficient in the 'emotional'/astral or was that a transition of consciousness that occurred as a punishment for immoral behaviour from an earlier time period?

The Atlanteans and for that matter Lemurians, I suspect were similar in capacity and capabilities to us now (if not superior). However, the ones who survived through the ages, were those who knew how to and were therefore overwhelmingly proficient in the lower chakras. This is the reason almost 1 out of 2 people are dominant in the 1st, lowest chakra, vastly outnumbering the higher chakras in all races worldwide. This is the mental aspect of survival, but the physical element is even more important since the survivors of plagues, famines, wiping out millions must necessarily have been physically vigorous with powerful immunity.

Note- some of the most superior national and individual intellectual and spiritual groups worldwide today are Atlanteans and prior.

Whether The Lemurians (1st chakra Soul ascension) and Atlanteans (2nd chakra Soul ascension) had the 3rd chakra and above perception during their creation and beginning of their Age, and through each Age there is a descent, I am unsure. I suspect there is a class of man, let's call them 'Sapiens', who have survived each major cataclysm and transition of root races ascending, rather than descending in Soul Chakra ascension and capacitance.

Divine eyes in humanity

The amount of powerful Anunnaki left eyes existent in the world right now is extremely numerous. In all nations and in all root races, you will find the same Anunnaki left eyes (divided up by the 12 planetary emanations) abundant throughout. However, the amount of the Divine right eyes is extremely few. If you want to know more about this, go to esotericlight.com

Humanities morality

Humanities morality is in some sense comprehensible given that there is a huge influx of pollutants, and other environmental factors worldwide. However, this does not mean it's justified. The reality is, even in Western societies with similar conditions, there was great divergence in human behaviour and morality. This was despite the influx of the same environmental factors. That is the test- what will you do in the face of physical, psychological, and emotional chaos simultaneously, with exponential qualitative temporal acceleration analogous to crabs in a boiling pot of water? This test is placed on those who have never experienced such conditions, and if they had, it is a distant memory in their Soul memory, diminished through disuse. This is analogous to the testing of Job, by stripping him of all riches, burning everything to the ground, and seeing if he will still love the Divine. Ultimately, the Soul and Spirit must triumph over circumstance.

Why the Soul?

One must use electricity to say 'No' and stand up against evil, to go against the (magnetic) grain that sweeps humanity away in the path of least resistance.

Why the Spirit?

One must love the Divine, the beautiful, the true, if they are going to go against the grain of a materialistic, hate filled, Theist-non society.

Applied-

When you strip all away, all inner Divinity, physical health, mental health, right practice, then what? How moral will you be when relying entirely on the inner wisdom of Soul and Spirit over and despite external material circumstance/forces? The reward, likely, will be in proportion to the scale of circumstances overcome. Almost certainly, the murderers in prison today would not have committed their crime had they been raised in perfect homes with right practice. However, what about the vast majority of people who were also abused, witnessed violence and turmoil, even more so than those who committed murder/s perpetuating the vicious cycle? Where the vast, vast majority of all human groups do not commit any crime, over their entire life, and give back to the community in many ways. These people, for having gone right when others turned left should be rewarded.

Job

The Western world is, for all intents and purposes- Job. We've been out on a 150-year test to see how moral we can be when we are stripped of, and ignor(e)ant of all our blessings and rewards. A reminder that in fact, these blessings are rewards and not inherent eternal rights.

Furthermore-

In the future, if we do have a Kingdom of Heaven reigning on earth, do you want Divinised Souls who, if they were put to the same biopsychospiritual degenerative test, would choose to murder, assault, rape, steal, etc.?

Therefore, in the Age of Aquarius we will see the creation of a new subrace, with the merging of all existing races worldwide, a composition of Caucasian, Asian, and African subraces, forming something new with increased capacities in the pituitary gland, blending the (physical) rationality of the fifth root race with the (astral) emotionality of the fourth. This is a continuation of what has already occurred in nearly every South American nation, constituting approximately half a billion people worldwide currently. We may see a new Religion created, with the merging of Christianity and Islam, where Sirius will have a prominent role in consciousness and religious expression, primarily as a resetting tool to bring back common-sense morality. It may also be a female dominated age, since Aquarius is the only exclusively female sign, though it is unclear whether females themselves will dominate, or be dominated through subjugation. There has been Communist (Aquarian ideology) systems placed over the entire world since the Age of Aquarius (Tropical) onset. The astrological consciousness dominating this Age will be that of Sirius (a star Aquarius is sidereally in trine with), and all the sacred consciousness planets and Rays, excluding Neptune and 6th Ray, which will likely manifest in the new merged religion being a private practice.

Chapter 6 - Discover your Astral, Conception and Innermost Charts

I know my birth chart, how do I find my astral, mental and Innermost charts?

Apply the following formulas-

Conception-

Your true conception date will be within 2 weeks from the following calculated date (you would know if you were born 2+ weeks late or early).

Formula

Existing birthday + 1 week – 9 months

So

A June 1st birthday would have a September 7th conception date from the prior year as a referential starting point. If you were born late or early, apply the above formula, and then add/subtract the additional weeks you were early or late.

Therefore, June 1st birth who was '2 weeks early' will have an September 21st conception as a referential starting point for determining the precise conception chart (to the minute).

Innermost-

Your Innermost chart (resulting from first seminal release) will be up to 4 days prior, but usually within 24 hours of the conception chart. Therefore, the differentiating factor and identifier between the Mental and Innermost will be the Moon and after, Ascendant. Likely, you will have the same Moon sign between these two charts, and in that case the Sabian degree difference, and the Ascendant will be crucial.

Astral-

The question of when the 'quickenings' or 'maturation' process of a baby occurs (which crystalises the astral chart) is a bit trickier. This can occur anywhere between 16-20 weeks after conception, but can even occur after these dates too. Therefore, begin this discovery by adding 18 weeks to your conception chart as a referential starting point. Then, the key to determine it is through analysis using the methods below.

1) Scan the top part of the chart, that is the slower moving planets governing the higher chakras. This will be Venus, Sun, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto. Enter the relevant sphere of consciousness, be it emotional (astral), mental (conception), Innermost (seminal release), and determine whether the glaring retrograde or stationary planets match your mental/emotional/Innermost operation. If they don't, add or minus 2 weeks and you may find that other planets match. Stationary and retrograde planets in particular are particularly helpful since these will likely be different to physical natal birth chart consciousness, as well as the other charts.

2) Find your Moon sign. This is not the first step because as mentioned you could be +/- 2 weeks from the referential starting point, which would mean at the poles the same Moon sign appears. Once, however you've determined your other planets, especially Sun, this narrows things down. If, for example your Sun is Gemini, then you know your Moon sign can only be located from Sun in Gemini's dates and not Sun in Taurus or Cancer. To determine the exact degree of the Moon, determine first the element, the perception quality (conscious, unconscious, duality or unity), and once the sign is determined, determine which decan you belong to. Once that is determined look up the decans 10 individual Sabian degrees for that sign individually and you'll have the exact Sabian for the Moon. Alternatively, you can study every Moon Sabian degree in the determined sign, removing the need to narrow down with Decans.

Determining the exact Moon Sabian will then pave the way for discovery of the Ascendant (Soul) and Descendant (Spirit) Sabian, which will land the exact minute of your maturation, conception or seminal release.

3) Find your Ascendant (Soul) and Descendant (Spirit). There may only be one sign for the Ascendant in your Moon degree, but there may be 2 you resonate with. Re-enter your conception, astral, or Innermost sphere of consciousness and determine the element to differentiate between the options (I.e. Virgo or Libra possibility). To accurately determine the Spirit and Soul and avoid simply choosing a Sabian you possess on a planet in one of your 3 other charts analyse your decided Ascendants (Soul) Sabians opposition (the Descendant/Spirit). Check if this aligns with your mental/astral/Innermost spiritual expression.

Thus, if you've decided you have Pisces 26' ascendant, this will only be true if you also have Virgo 26' for the descendant. If you do not resonate at all with the Spirit/ descendant, then scope out the Spirits +- 10 degrees, or within the same decan until you find one you resonate with. If the opposition (Soul, Ascendant) is also something you seriously considered then this is likely the correct Soul and Spirit for that sphere of consciousness (mental, astral or Innermost). You may have close by Sabian degrees in planets in one of your 4 charts, so this is a great technique to be doubly accurate, whilst simultaneously being accurate to your Moon Sabian.

The above can be applied to all 3 hidden astrological charts that form an integral part of your psyche and your relation to the Electromagnetic influences of the firmament.

My advice-

Simply begin the process of wondering and calculating, and the answers will come.

Chapter 7 - Esoteric Implications

Is unconsciousness the mind of G?

It has been said that the Divine is 'Love'. The only signs manifesting through the 2nd Ray of Love/Wisdom are the mutable (unconscious unity) signs of Gemini, Pisces, Virgo, and the planets Sun and Jupiter. No other signs or planets express this Ray besides these unconscious 3 (which excludes Sagittarius and Ophiuchus). Out of these, only Gemini singularly expresses this Ray (Pisces and Virgo express the 6th Ray of Devotion), making Jupiter in Gemini a 2nd Ray planet expressing a 2nd Ray sign. Note- remembering that a planets stationary signs in essential dignities are the most important, Jupiter in Gemini (direct) is an exoteric detriment, an exoteric ruler when retrograde, and esoteric ruler when stationary. Rendering oneself predominately unconscious in any chart means sacrificing access to the 1st, and 7th Rays, for these (when expressed through zodiac signs) are expressed solely through the conscious (being cardinal or fixed) signs you will only have access to 2nd Ray, 3rd Ray, 4th Ray, 5th Ray and 6th Ray (Love/wisdom, Physical Development, Truth/Concrete Science, and Devotion). That is one masculine, one androgynous and two feminine Rays. In such a chart, the only access you would have to these Rays is through planetary expression.

However, this raises the question- could engaging in practices that render us unconscious make us more 'Divine'? i.e. The serpent who told Adam and Eve to eat from the tree of knowledge of good and evil. While this is a (potential interpretative) logical deduction, doing so would only make the male portion of humanity unconscious, the female portion ultra conscious and would lead straight to the condition where only the weeping and gnashing of teeth are heard. Indeed, how 99.9%+ achieve this is only the sorrowful way, and to achieve their ends requires more careful alchemical formula.

Remember the Bible and Torah affirm there are multiple gods

'...as there be gods many, and lords many'

1 Corinthians 8:5

"You shall have no other gods before me".

Deuteronomy 5:7

Yet, it seems there was one prime G who created the heavens, the earth and the Anunnaki. If this source uses Eather it is able to transform and be whatever it wants to be, then its expression must be that of Ophiuchus, the only sign with the element of Eather. Ophiuchus is also unconscious, and expresses itself in duality through the 3rd (Intellect) and 6th Rays (Devotion). However, remember the planets of Sun and Jupiter radiate magnetic Eather, so Ophiuchus is not the only way for humanity to receive it.

Alice Baileys 8 Signs from creation

Aries

Taurus

Gemini

Cancer

Libra

Scorpio

Sagittarius

Capricorn

Note the only two unconscious signs were mutable (unconscious unity) and the traditional astrological axis of masculine (air and fire, Gemini and Sagittarius). Through these two, you get the complete Ray expression for all the mutable signs, and neither share a single Ray in common. The only two fixed signs were feminine (Scorpio and Taurus) and cardinal has all 4 signs, reinforcing the term 'cardinal' of 'fundamental importance'. Indeed, from the very beginning the cardinal signs were expressed in a complete, fourfold elemental expression, whereas the fixed and mutable signs had only two each.

This is worth contemplation-

Are these signs the most Divine, or the most easily perceptible, and in that vein comparatively 'superior'? The recent additions of Pisces and Virgo blend the Rays of the former masculine mutable signs by expressing through the even numbers of 2 and 6, and excluding 4th and 5th Rays present in the other, original unconscious unity (mutable) signs. Are these additions due to our increased levels of evolutionary (or involutionary) capacity, or was our height of said powers distilled to perception of only 8 (out of a total 88) signs?

Leo the Lion and the 'Devils tail'

Leos addition to the zodiac likely coincided during the Ancient Egyptian era, symbolised by the Great Sphinx pyramid in the shape of a Chimera, the half lion, half human. I strongly suspect that the introduction of Leo into the planetary consciousness corresponds to the moment those former Root races was given the 'Devils tail', that intense heightened awareness and perception of the lower 1st animalistic chakra. That new biological element to be 'overcome'. Leo and Virgo are said to have been introduced as new zodiac additions to humanity first, and Aquarius and Pisces after. That means for the time gap between the latter two signs introduction, there was no elemental oppositional counterbalance for those former two left hemispheric earth and fire signs (Leo and Virgo). They were stand alone, having a mathematical opposition in cardinal and mutable signs and non-complimentary Rays. This is precisely the current state of Ophiuchus, who's opposed as an unconscious Eatheric immutable sign by conscious fixed earth Taurus. That is, the highest possible element (Eather) is 'balanced' by the lowest element (earth), and an Immutable sign is opposed by a fixed sign, when the universal rule is all fixed, cardinal and mutable signs oppose each other in complementary elements. We can then infer that Ophiuchus should have opposition in an Immutable unconscious duality, but non-Eatheric sign.

Prominent esoteric astrologers have put forth the notion that the 'birth chart' for planet Earth is very different, and includes signs absent from the eight above in the following order:

Moon in Cancer

Mercury in Virgo

Venus in Libra

Sun in Leo

Mars in Scorpio

Jupiter in Sagittarius

Saturn in Capricorn

The above planets are in their signs all at 15 degrees.

Key issues:

Virgo and Leo are present. The above proposed birth chart of earth has an exoteric ruler for every single planet/chakra, (even though some of them also rule on the esoteric and Hierarchical levels too). However, if humanity could not perceive Leo and Virgo, then does that mean humanity was without Mercury, Sun, Vulcan and Earth (since Aquarius is missing too) consciousness. This is 4 planets in signs that theoretically did not exist or were imperceptible. This would mean we only had consciousness access to Moon, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn (Uranus, Neptune and Pluto are not mentioned in the proposed birth chart of earth). Furthermore, Baileys eight signs suggests that the Tropical influences affecting humanities minority is referring to those influences not since the onset of creation, since there are 12 signs that are perceptible in the Tropical consciousness. It therefore follows, that the onset of the sidereal Age of Aquarius could incorporate the 9th sign, Ophiuchus, as part of the Tropical, invisible electromagnetic influences, totalling 13 signs. It is therefore an equal possibility that the sidereal Age of Aquarius may have a 14th sidereal sign that affects suffering sidereal humanity and will ultimately be incorporated into the Tropical electromagnetic influences affecting man at the end of the Age of Aquarius, at the onset of the Age of Capricorn. Perhaps then the sidereal humanity (of which there are billions today) are necessary for the instantiation of a constellation into the Tropical electromagnetic forces. Perhaps their suffering (inherent to their state) is necessary, since the accumulation of tormented and tormenting Souls' experiences would, cumulatively, provide immense wisdom, worthy of the few who overcame, a reward in proportion to their attainment.

Ophiuchus and the 88 constellations

There are, as was established by modern and ancient astronomers, 88 distinct constellations. Is Ophiuchus a new constellation like Aquarius, Pisces, Leo and Virgo were, or part of the 75 remaining constellations out of 88, which are not currently incorporated in our Tropical (and sidereal) consciousness perception? Its likely these missing constellation signs frequencies are simply imperceptible to us on our current stage of collective evolution. Though there may be individual exceptions who can perceive beyond the 13 signs

Are all signs distinct, or can they merge, and separate?

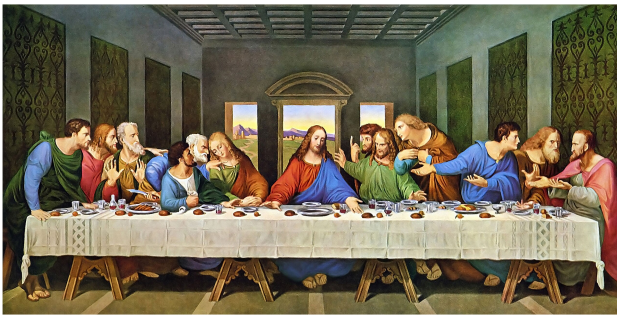

Bailey stated that Pisces and Aries, and Virgo and Libra will merge, becoming two unique individual signs. She said that 'The Kingdom of Heaven on Earth' is represented by the combination of Libra (Cardinal conscious air, heaven) and Virgo (mutable unconscious earth). This suggests there are potentially much more (or less) than 88 constellations since they can fractalise, merge and separate.

Chapter 8 - Esoteric Clarifications

E valuation of signs based on body language, countenance and posture

Leonardo Da Vinci- The Last Supper (1498)

The most astonishing thing about this painting is that Da Vinci managed to capture with perfection the countenance and body language of each zodiac sign. Aries staunch determined nature is expressed through a single finger pointing up (the Illuminating Ray) and his energised wilful forward leaning posture is perfectly representative of Aries. He is the 'indignant man with the truth' and he'll speak it boldly. Taurus' singular 4th Ray focus is perfectly captured as he's intensely analysing and convergently squinting at the material object of his gaze, as if penetrating and splitting a rock (earth element). Gemini, in his immeasurable 2nd Ray distribution of love and Wisdom, is unconsciously empathising and mutably undecisive in his judgement, in a whimsical way perceiving what's been revealed whilst clutching his heart. Cancer, with its strong destructive watery material emotional lunar influence is looking to Virgo for action on what he considers an immoral deception that must be punished. Leo's intense possessed eyes reveal his fiery nature, his forward tilt reveals the first Ray of will and his fixed gaze reveals his focus on the concrete reality (of the situation) reveals the 5th, Ray. Virgo's countenance, as I've discovered with many of them, is uncovered primarily through their Vulcan (esoteric Ruler), and Earth in Pisces (joy). Their Earth in Pisces is tough but since it's water, is always yearning to be used for destructive (water's function) applications. It then happily uses esoteric ruler Vulcan in left-hemispheric Virgo to achieve these ends. Pisces beyond the 14th degree tend toward the malefic, self-centred egoism in their application of this, while those before the 15th degree tend toward righteous justice. Notice that both Leo and Cancer look to him for will/action (that which Vulcan represents) on the material world (earth element) based on the observation of what's occurring in it (3rd Ray of Intellect, and non-sacred Earth). On the far left side of the table we have Libra, who's acutely observable through his fiery energised bodily tension, fixed gaze and their tilt forward posture. Libra is identified not through Libra, but Earth in Aries. Remember, Earth in Aries becomes identical with Capricorn in their Ray expression, encompassing 1st, 3rd and 7th Rays. To see the difference between water's receptiveness, and fire's creative energisation compare the Libra figure with the Capricorn figure (who is also identified by his Earth sign, not his Sun sign). Scorpio passively

(like water) hides behind Ophiuchus, whom he relies on to intellectually (3rd Ray) come to a conclusion about the situation, as he simply studies it in a 4th Ray way (that splits the atom to analyse its contents) in terms only of the emotional (astral perceiving) fallout of the situation and all that will follow from it. Ophiuchus unconsciously studies the lack of the Adams apple with his direct Eatheric gaze. Da Vinci captured Ophiuchus' unconscious duality in the countenance with precision. Ophiuchus holds his hands up as if he's about to get to the heart of the matter and conduct a study seeing whether Aquarius has breasts. A solution penetrating to the heart of the issue that could only have come through 6th Ray. Indeed, he's the only figure at the table intellectually contributing and not emotionally reacting. Sagittarius angrily and accusingly points at the missing Adams apple, leaning right in fully energised (representative of his 4th, 5th, 6th Rays and fire element). It's all too much for Capricorn who's cardinally looking (with the 7th Ray) at the situation. Yes, Capricorn is identified with his Earth in Cancer (Fall). Jesus is mutably (unconscious unity) compassionate and calling for calm and peace amongst the members of the table, asking them to halt their anger and condemnation, whilst seemingly personally saddened (unconscious emotional water element) by it. The peacemaker is one of the most divine, beautiful expressions of Pisces in the world and role and place amongst the zodiac. It is the only sign which calls for calm and peace in moments of turmoil through its immense compassion and imagination of how existing material realities can be nourished and improved. Furthermore, note the zodiac signs are formed in groups of 3, even Aquarius, but Jesus is sat separated, and alone. In this painting, Jesus (or its symbolic translation, Pisces) represents the 13th member.

Houses for sidereal vs Tropical astrology

Sidereal- Placidus

Tropical- Whole sign

When in sidereal vs Tropical consciousness, you will have different houses governing many of the planets. This differential is as significant as the fact that most signs chronologically switch (by one) between the two astrological systems. That is, the houses for almost all the planets will almost always switch (by one). It is only the aspects (trines, sextiles, squares etc.) that remain unchanged when transitioning between the two systems and modes of consciousness.

Houses in the Southern Hemisphere vs Northern Hemisphere

Planetary expression through the houses can invert depending on whether the individual is in the Northern Hemisphere, or Southern Hemisphere. Therefore, the Sun in 1st house becomes Sun in 7th house, Mars in 4th house, becomes Mars in 10th house etc. Whichever hemisphere one is born into is the ideal house operation/ expression for that Soul. When a Southern Hemisphere individual moves to the Northern Hemisphere, they suddenly lose their natural mode of expression for all planets. The houses are profoundly important for ones overall personality and application of his Soul and evolutionary capacities.

Four brains (for forethought)-

The four brains are the medulla oblongata, solar plexus, pituitary gland, and the pineal gland

Medulla Oblongata- Mercury

Solar Plexus- Venus

Pituitary Gland- Jupiter

Pineal Gland- Saturn

Linking the Rays

It's important to note that if Pisces, Cancer and Scorpio are in a trine, then the Rays of all 3 will 'link' in the following manner (in addition to whichever Planetary Ray lends itself to them).

Pisces (2nd, 6th)

Cancer (3rd, 7th)

Scorpio (4th)

Thus, regardless of applying or separating aspects, the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Ray of all signs will link, simultaneously uniting mutable (unconscious unity), cardinal (conscious unity) and fixed (conscious duality) water (dielectric, androgynous) perception. This 'linking' would also extend to the 6th and 7th Rays of Pisces and Cancer but would exclude Scorpions 4th Rays since there's a gap between 4th and 6th Ray with no connecting 5th Ray. However, the following is an interesting solution that, instead of a singular trine, adds a 3-fold trine, with the addition of a conjunction:

Pisces 27

Cancer 23

Scorpio 28

Leo 1

In the above example you have the linking of every single Ray, 1 and 5 (Leo), 2 and 6 (Pisces), 3 and 7 (Cancer) and 4th (Scorpio). Excluding any planetary influence that will add to the signs Ray expression, there is the complete 7-fold expression of every single Ray simultaneously.

Tropical vs sidereal

The true meaning of what it means to be ‘born again’ is found in the mechanics of transition from sidereal to Tropical birth charts. This is why the ‘Elohim’ are ‘not affected’ by the literal planetary bodies in the sky (sidereal astrology). Though they are affected by the invisible electromagnetic waves from the planetary bodies formed a long time ago (Tropical astrology).

Mental Health

There are 3 key planets that are profound indicators of mental health. These are Moon, Mercury and Jupiter, or 1/2/6 in the Number System. Note all of these are ‘black light’ planets, and associated with perceiving material reality (first) and cross referencing it to the Spiritual Divine. If these planets are dignified (Chapter 3) then this is a good indicator for ability to maintain good mental health.

Why?

They don't 'zoom out' of the problem, linking it to bigger picture issues through inversion (detriment) or high capacitance (fall) consciousness, but 'zoom in' and specifically focuses on the reality in the present moment and how it can be constructively improved.

Good mental health example:

1 Taurus

2 Aries

6 Virgo

– Here we have an exalted Moon, esoteric ruler of Mercury, and Hierarchical ruler of Jupiter.

Poor mental health example

1 Capricorn

2 Gemini (R)

6 Cancer (R)

Here we have a Moon Mercury detriment, and a fallen Jupiter.

Why?

Because Moon and Mercury are responsible for the sensory world perception and physical development (material or sacred perception of order from chaos, the 4th Ray of Physical Development). Jupiter is responsible for non-sensory long term greater good, Love/Wisdom perception. Moon and Jupiter constitute and are perceived through the lens of the Freudian id and Mercury is the intellectual planet to navigate and guide one through conceptually relating distinct ideas to one another.

Note, the biological transplant of Venus and other planets has a direct impact on the strength of the physical, astral and mental charts. Upon becoming Tropical in consciousness, the mental chart overtakes the astral in terms of power, but the Natal chart remains the most powerful.

Planetary Dignities or 'Biological Dignities'?

The Planetary dignities are entirely based on biological correspondence, and not the planet. So, when Venus in Cancer is expressed through the 3rd chakra, it's in detriment, but exalted when expressed through the 6th chakra. Venus now expresses a + polarity and essential dignity rather than a - due entirely to the biological shift.

Benefic planets in the Ac and Dc when transplant has been made

The Soul and Spirit Number system (Page 59) of the benefic, neutral planets through signs still applies, regardless of which planet governs each individual chakra. So, if Venus in Pisces expresses through the 6th chakra, then the Pisces Ac benefic chakras of 1/5/6 now includes Venus in Pisces (since 6 represents the 6th chakra, to where Venus is now placed) and the formerly benefic Jupiter is no longer included as one of the benefic planets to the Pisces Ac.

Ever wondered why English (Angelish) is non-phonetic?

English is non-phonetic because each words vibrations emits objective frequencies that can be (numerically) quantified.

Important:

There's a danger in choosing your child's birth chart. Nearly all 'accidental' and generally planned births have the fingerprints of Divinity. Anyone who's studied their family, friends and personal charts will know this.

Probability reveals the handiwork of the Divine.

So, is your worldly intellect and current knowledge superior to the Divine transcendent order of invisible helpers in the unseen worlds?

The number system of planets/ chakras also corresponds to the days of the week precisely (if one begins on Monday and skips two days)

Monday- Moon

Wednesday- Mercury

Friday- Venus

Sunday- Sun

Tuesday- Mars

Thursday- Jupiter

Saturday- Saturn

The above formula is given in esoteric books and clear linguistic parallels (Saturday- Saturn, Sunday, Sun) exist. However, I can equally make a case that the current order of the days of the week being chronologically accurate.

Monday- Moon, 1st chakra, 1st day of the week

Tuesday- Mercury (Mercury is associated with Dualism, or 2/Tueness, polarity)

Wednesday- Venus day. If you remove the 'd' you get Wenes, remarkably similar to Venus, with w and v being interchangeable, and e and u both being vowels, and therefore interchangeable.

Thursday- 'Thors day', It has been said that Thor is the Sun and thus correctly the 4th day corresponding with the 4th chakra.

Friday- Since this is the day that Muslims worship, and Islam, in addition to being a lunar, Sirius religion, is very much Martial (Mars, the god of war, and material Devotion, 5th chakra of speech).

Saturday- Since this is the Old Testament Sabbath for those whose first syllable align with the first two letters of the planet corresponding with the 6th chakra, I can see how this would potentially be Jupiter.

Perhaps, the days of the week, much like the astrological charts, are influenced and have different meaning dependent on the status of the alignment of the perceivers consciousness. That is, sidereal consciousness humanity is affected by the former (days of the week) system, and the Tropical consciousness are affected by the latter. I repeat, there are linguistic and numerical concordances for both systems above, and thus, they may reflect different governors or 'timelines'. Perhaps therefore, this is why time feels qualitatively different for children, and different once more with adolescents, adults and the elderly.

Mark of the beast, the Sixth seal and the cataclysm?

Indeed, without the transplantation to a chakra immune to environmental pollutants, it would be hard to have unadulterated Venus consciousness during the upcoming cataclysm. Yes, even if transplanted to the 6th chakra, Venus will still be fundamentally received by the solar plexus, just as if Jupiter is transplanted it will still be received by the pituitary gland, before being diverted to the subsequent chakra/emanation. Venusian consciousness, incidentally, will save you in the cataclysm, where the destructive force would pass right over your head, sparing you entirely.

Chapter 9 - Signs and their Symbols

Libra, and Gemini, the most masculine Sun signs?

Gemini and Libra possess the singular masculine expression of 2nd (Gemini), and 3rd (Libra) Rays, forming a trinity of all the masculine Rays when Sun is in these signs, 1st being in Vulcan, 2nd in Sun, 3rd in Earth. However, when including their Earth signs (Aries and Sagittarius) respectively, Libra becomes most masculine as Earth in Aries has 1st, 3rd and 7th Rays (2 total masculine Rays) and Earth in Sagittarius has 3rd, 4th, 5th, and 6th Rays (having only 1 masculine Ray). Thus, Sun in Gemini has a total of 5 out of 8 Rays that are masculine, and Libra has 6 out of 7 Rays. Libra is therefore the most masculine Sun sign in both quantity and ratio.

Interesting to note, Earth (3rd Ray) in Aries (1st and 7th Rays) forms the exact Ray constitution of Capricorn (1st, 3rd and 7th Rays), and Earth in Sagittarius forms a total chronological linkage of 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Rays (Intellect, Physical Development, Truth/Concrete Science and Devotion), and when in opposition with Vulcan and Sun in Gemini, creates a near all-encompassing simultaneous balanced relationship linking 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th Rays.

Virgos symbol

Virgo has a lower case 'm'. 'm' is the 13th letter of the alphabet, and 13 is the number of the 1st chakra (based on Hz sound frequency activation). 13 numerologically (1+3) translates to 4, and Moon materially (through non-sacred perception) expresses the 4th Ray. This symbol thus reveals an esoteric truth (hidden in exoteric astrology) that Virgo is the esoteric ruler of the Moon. Notice the 4th shape on the right, the human head (reminiscent of the Egyptian Ankh) that when conjoined with the final right vertical stroke of 'm' forms a fish of Pisces. Pisces is the Earth sign when Sun is in Virgo. This is symbolic of Virgos dualistic nature. It has a dignified (when direct) biological expression since the 6th chakra is Hierarchical ruled, and 7th is in joy, and in the stationary (non-existent) motion, Virgo is in joy in both the 6th and 7th Chakras. It is also esoteric rulership in the 1st chakra and exoteric and esoteric rulership in the 2nd chakra. Virgo is also esoteric Ruler of the 1st chakra, and exoteric and esoteric ruler of the 2nd chakra. They can be either Divinely focused and upright, bordering on moral puritanism (representative of the higher chakras), but can also be slaves to lust and materiality (earth element combined with mutable unconscious unity and representing the lower chakras). The 'm' is also identical with Scorpius symbol, a sign that is in either sextile or square with Virgo depending on the degrees, and itself has a profound relation with the 1st chakra, being the only 'Fall' sign for this (non-retrograding or stationary) planet.

Sagittarius the Centaur

Sagittarius being half man, half animal (horse) is most representative of humanities current stage of consciousness, desires, and evolution, whereas Aquarius is symbolic of the illumined ideal man and esoterically, the ideal woman. Humanities lower frequency chakras is on track to increase significantly. Indeed, looking around the world, looking around those former empires much like, or vastly superior to ours, this increase in power of the lower 'survival' chakras seems to be the trend, and therefore our destiny. This is not necessarily bad, since the development and expansion of the lower frequency survival instincts is a positive. Its' positive expression is that these former empires do not 'fall for' destructive and dangerous trends that destroy civilization. The same cannot be said for current 'Western' nations, and we're about to witness the horrifying effects of this lack of grounded common sense for the Western world.

Pisces the Mermaid

In Lemuria, the mermaid (a half female, half fish with the fishes tail) was the symbol of Pisces, and not the current symbol of two connected fish. Once again, we get the theme of the half animal, half human hybrid. Like Sagittarius, there is the implication that Pisces expression on the lower 3 chakras is animalistic, and on higher 3 chakras Divine. Pisces also functions as a trine with Ophiuchus (4-29), and Sagittarius forms a conjunction (0-9). Thus, immutable unconscious duality Ophiuchus forms deep harmonious and powerful relations with mutable unconscious unity Pisces and Sagittarius, both of which are half animal on the lower half of the body, and Divine on the upper half. Ophiuchus both connects and separates from them being a composite sign of man wielding the (separated) serpent.

Why the change from a hybrid to an animal?

Pisces symbol change potentially signifies that the signs biological expression has been completely animalised (through the 5th, 6th and 7th chakras), transforming from a mermaid, to two fish tied together, swimming in opposite directions. This could signify that Black Moon Lilith (or one of the many other Moons) has transformed, or been transformed by, the Moon, and now they're two equal, animalistic (watery) Lunar bodies intertwined and connected.

As stated on page 109-110. Uranus' symbol illuminates the situation.

“Uranus’ Astrological symbol looks like a key unlocking and separating (or locking and binding) the cord connecting the two fish of Pisces. In doing so, it creates a Holy Cross, two Islamic crescent Moons and an inverted (near complete) Egyptian Ankh. Therefore, perhaps it symbolizes the notion that sacred Illumination consciousness (Uranus) can either separate/ liberate or bind/lock disparate entities and the 'key' is contemplative realisation achieved through attuning to its sacred perception. Indeed, to attune to it, requires one to invert their consciousness from the root chakra (Moon), to the first planet outside of any biological chakra correspondence. Perhaps, applying Uranus' planetary motion to its symbol of the key and its potential motion, if Uranus' directional motion is counter clockwise (retrograde) it liberates and frees the two fish, since Uranus (R) in Pisces is exoteric ruler, and when direct, clockwise motion it is exoterically detrimental. The key locks, binding them.

Note, when the key remains as it is (stationary) Uranus in Pisces is exalted.

This is a particularly important observation since the Age of Pisces is sidereally reigning".

Chapter 10 - Chakra-Emanation Personality

Chakra-Emanation Personality?

'Chakra-emanation personality' refers to distinct categories determined by an individual's most powerful (fastest spinning) chakra, which is in turn, determined by one's brain hemispheres. There will be one 'supreme' chakra for each brain hemisphere, defining one's 'chakra personality type', but it will have 3 accompanying 'friendly', fast spinning chakras, making 4 strengths in total, 4 'neutral', or moderately fast chakras/emanations, and 4 'enemy' or slow spinning chakras, making 12 in total. The human biology (chakras) is necessary for the reception of all planets and emanations, the twin serpents of the spine, the Ida and Pingala travel through these and the chakras speed of rotation and 'type' is determined by the right and left-brain hemispheres. This means each person on Earth has two distinct 'chakra personality types'. One determined by the left-hemisphere, one determined by the right. If one is a 5th chakra personality type in the right-hemisphere, but has only left-hemispheric (fire, earth elements) signs expressed in the 5th chakra through all the planets in all 4 astrological charts, then he is without right-hemispheric expression in his biggest right-hemispheric strength. Similarly, if he is a 3rd chakra type in their left-hemisphere, but has only right-hemispheric signs in his 3rd chakra in all 4 astrological charts, he is entirely without access to his most powerful left-hemisphere chakra.

Chakra ordering mirrors planetary speed

- 1- Moon
- 2- Mercury
- 3- Venus
- 4- Sun
- 5- Mars
- 6- Jupiter
- 7- Saturn

Number System

- 1- 1/2/4/9 // 3/5/6/7
- 2- 2/4/6/10 // 3/5/7
- 3- 1/3/4/5 // 7/8/10
- 4- 1/3/4/5 // 2/7/8
- 5- 1/3/4/5 // 6/7/10
- 6- 2/6/7/9 // 3/5/8
- 7- 2/6/7/8 // 3/5/10

The numbers on the left side for each chakra personality type signify the 'strengths', and the numbers on the right signify the neutral chakras. The enemy chakras can be discovered through inference (missing numbers).

There is very clearly a 'sacred perception' group, a 'non-sacred perception' group and a 'mixture' group. The sacred would comprise of the 6th and 7th personality types, the non-sacred with the 3rd, 4th and 5th chakra types, and the mixture with the 1st and 2nd chakra types. Since the 6th chakra is meant to be governed by Venus (for half of the chakra types), but is currently governed by Jupiter for all in this era, the 6th chakra personality type is best in choosing partners who're friendly with their 'home planet'. Venus, and thus should choose whose home planet is friendly, so 1st chakra (Mercury), 2nd chakra (Uranus), 3rd chakra (Neptune), 5th chakra (Saturn), 6th chakra (Venus). The 3rd, 4th and 5th chakra types all have identical planetary strengths. However, for the sidereal consciousness the 4th and 5th chakra types are a more ideal pairing with each other than with 3rd chakra since Venus is not in planetary harmony with Sun or Mars (despite being a strength of all).

The 3rd and 6th chakras have half of each others enemies as their most powerful strengths. Furthermore, notice that 6th chakra personality has the highest total sacred planets, having all 4 strengths sacred, and out of 7 total strong/neutral planets, has 6. Conversely, the 1st, 3rd and 5th chakra types have the most non-sacred planet proficiency having 4 of the non-sacred planets.

Enemy chakra benefits:

Example:

4- 1/3/4/5 // 2/8/9

The 'enemy chakra' is simply a chakra not listed in the Number system above. Therefore, the above 4th chakra example has enemy planets of

6/7/10

Note, one of Earth and Vulcans emanation points will also be listed here, making 4 planets for each category (strong, neutral, enemy).

Contemplating topics of importance in the enemy chakra/emanation planets, so that if disillusionment occurs, will help reduce the likelihood of giving up, due to the inevitable slow-moving consciousness that defeats and oppresses (when an individual is not conscious of its potential application to his endeavour). Furthermore, the 'slow moving' status of the 'enemy' chakras has profound significance for meditative contemplation and high capacitance comprehension. Unfortunately, most are socially coerced through shame and ridicule to only express their strong planets. This is a tragedy, and has led to the 'fast moving' pace inherent to Western societies and which is ultimately facilitating its (biopsychospiritual) demise. Nations like India are significantly less harsh in response to external expressions of slow-moving chakras, for they realize its profound importance, and inherent wisdom.

Home planets vs Birth planets

Every chakra personality type has a Sacred consciousness dominant planet as their 'home planet'. These planets are the most benefic and friendly that if attuned to, yield the best results for that chakra personality.

They are:

- 1- Mercury
- 2- Uranus
- 3- Neptune
- 4- Jupiter
- 5- Saturn
- 6- Venus
- 7- Vulcan

This is particularly important to know since no person is born with their 'home planet' expressing through their most powerful chakra.

The current chakra ordering from birth however, is:

- 1 Moon
- 2 Mercury
- 3 Venus
- 4 Sun
- 5 Mars
- 6 Jupiter
- 7 Saturn

A 2nd chakra type would be perceiving Mercury with the highest depth, a 3rd chakra type would be perceiving Venus with the highest depth, but they should be perceiving Uranus and Neptune with the highest depth respectively. Each personality-chakra type has a mix of sacred and non-sacred planets in the 7 chakras and emanations in their birth chart, and home planet chart configuration. Only one planet (either the sun or Moon) will be expressing through the same chakra/emanation centres in these two charts (1st chakra Moon for one group, 4th chakra Sun for 2nd group). They are divided into two distinct groups of the chakra personality types in the home planet configuration, with a blend of sacred and non-sacred planets, in two distinct orders.

If you want to discover your home planet, and the home planet chakra ordering, go to esotericlight.com

Friendly and Neutral chakras for each chakra personality type

The chakra personality and its respective chakra strength ordering, is most accurately denoted by the Number System since there can be transposition of planets. However, the vast majority of humanity conform to the birth ordering:

- 1- Moon
- 2- Mercury
- 3- Venus
- 4- Sun
- 5- Mars
- 6- Jupiter

7- Saturn

8- Uranus

9- Neptune

10- Pluto

Percentage Distribution By Chakra Personality Type

1st- 40%

2nd- 7%

3rd- 25%

4th- 15%

5th- 7%

6th- 5%

Source- 7wisdoms.org

Note, 94% of humanity has their dominant chakra in the torso body, that area between the Red (1st chakra) and Blue (5th chakra). 87% of humanity does not have their dominant chakra above the heart. Almost half of humanity is the 1st, Root chakra, that means, since in every individual there is two chakra personality types (based on the differing brain hemispheres), a Right-hemispheric and a Left-hemispheric chakra type, approximately 80% of humanity has their dominant chakra in the 1st chakra. Notice, 62%, nearly two thirds of humanity is dominant in non-sacred perception (1st, 4th and 5th chakras in birth chakra ordering), that is the material perception of physical development (1st), material love/wisdom (4th), and material Devotion (5th). The Sacred consciousness of Physical Development (2nd chakra), Love/wisdom (6th chakra) and Intellect (7th chakra) is comparatively few, totalling just 13% of humanity. The one exception is the 3rd chakra, who has sacred perception of Truth/Science. This is likely due to Venus being the planet of relationships and love, giving them an evolutionary and procreative advantage that can be applied to all chakra types, and also that 3rd chakras 'harmonious' personalities are the 3rd, 4th and 5th chakras, totalling 47% of humanity. In contrast, the 6th and 7th chakras governing planets are only equally compatible with one another (based on friendly planets), totalling 6% of humanity. The 1st and 2nd chakras are partially compatible with everybody, but in matters of love, they are most compatible with 6th and 7th chakra types based on the reality for Sacred consciousness compatibility in romantic relationships.

Paramount-

The Sabian degree for ones individual chakra personality type is the most imminent to pay attention to. A 2nd chakra type should pay extra attention to Mercury and Uranus' expressionary Sabian degree in all 4 charts since they are his birth and home planets. This is irrespective of whether or not this planet is benefic in the Soul or Spirit, since they are the most powerful planets. One should pay equal (if not greater) attention to the Sabian degree of their 'home planet'. After this is done, they must pay careful attention to the Sabian degree of the remaining 3 chakra/planetary strengths.

Brain hemispheres and chakra personality types

For those wondering how it's possible to have two distinct chakra personality types when chakras are biological centres and glands of the torso and brain, and I'm positing it's divided and differentiated exclusively by the elemental currents controlled by each brain hemisphere- remember that it's exoterically accepted that there are twin serpents, the Ida and Pingala twisting and encompassing every chakra individually, separately (from one another) and concurrently. These can be reconciled by understanding that these two serpents are controlled individually by each of the two brain hemispheres.

Chakras misalignment by capacitance frequency (from birth).

The idea that Venus should be placed on the brow is mathematically and logically sound, since Venus is higher in capacitance than Jupiter and all beneath it (Mars, Sun, Vulcan, Jupiter, Mercury, Moon). In the literature on the 7 chakras, you will find that the chakras (should) ascend vertically by capacitance. In theory, the lowest chakra number should have the lowest number of petals (representing capacitance frequency), and the highest should have the highest number of petals, ascending and descending sequentially. However, the (at birth) planetary expression of the chakras break this rule for Venus and Jupiter. Therefore, the current ordering of planetary expression through humanities biological chakras, is based entirely on the planetary speed through the firmament. Saturn takes the longest to go from one degree to the next, and Moon takes the shortest.

Home planet emanation

In addition to the 7 chakra types, I discovered that in the birth ordering of chakras, there is not just biological chakra personality types, but there are emanation dominance personality types of Vulcan, Earth, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto, Black Sun and Black Moon. However, of these, Vulcan personality types seem to be the most abundant worldwide (whose home planet is Pluto), but still relatively rare. However, these personality types are they whose 'home planet' is the non-sacred planets. They follow the following formula

Birth chart ordering correspondence with Home planet ordering

Birth vs Home Planet

Earth- Moon

Pluto- Mars

Neptune- Sun

Uranus- Earth

Vulcan- Pluto

Black Moon Lilith- Black Sun

Black Sun- Black Moon Lilith

The planet on the left is what one is born with, the planet on the right is what the home planet is. Number system here would be pointless, since the exact planetary birth emanation has been directly linked with the home planet for each type.

Therefore, the home planet for every chakra/emanation type is as follows:

- 1 Mercury
- 2 Uranus
- 3 Neptune
- 4 Jupiter
- 5 Saturn
- 6 Venus
- 7 Vulcan
- 8 Earth
- 9 Sun
- 10 Mars
- E Moon
- V Pluto
- BM Black Sun
- BS Black Moon

Note- all 14 planets of the 7 Rays are present, and not one of them is born with their home planet in their dominant chakra/emanation.

Chess and the 3rd chakra personality

Chess is primarily a game for the 1st, 3rd, 4th and 5th chakra types (constituting 87% of humanity). These chakra types all have friendly planets in all of the aforementioned chakras (1, 3, 4, 5). When you analyse the human landscape of this game, you notice the Grandmasters, International Masters, Fide masters etc. are one of these Chakra personality types. However, most noticeably, they often possess an exalted, right-hemispheric Venus in Pisces either in the natal chart, but even more common, in the mental (conception) chart. Therefore, you have a lot of chess players born in November, December and January. The 1st, 3rd 4th and 5th chakras are ideally right-hemispheric in all of the above chakras in at least one of the 4 individual astrological charts. The 3rd (majority of chess players), 4th and 5th chakras are greatly detrimented by having a right-hemispheric (Eather, air, water) sign in their Mercury (in 2nd chakra) since that is their enemy planet (excluding 4th chakra who has it as neutral).

Why is Chess predominantly a non-sacred (material) chakra type?

Chess requires absorption of a material sense impression (1st chakra) with sacred scientific and material mathematical devotion play with it (3rd and 5th chakra) to determine the wisest move on the (material) board (4th chakra).

What about the 6th and 7th chakra types?

These two have the Moon (material senses) and Sun (material Wisdom) as their enemy (slowest moving) biological chakras, and 3rd and 5th chakra (sacred Truth/Science, and material Devotion) as neutral chakras. Furthermore, the nature of their high capacitance chakras (regardless of any transplantation) is not conducive since they're primarily high capacitance with 'receptive' chakras, that are sacred consciousness receptive in birth chakra ordering.

What about 2nd chakra type?

2nd chakra type proves an exception, since they do have Sun (4th chakra or material Wisdom) and Pluto (Material Will) as friendly planets, but have Moon (material sense impressions) as an enemy and 3rd and 5th chakra as neutral. If you include 2nd chakra types, this would constitute 94% of humanity. However, since many of them do go reasonably far in chess but rarely reach the highest ranks, I do not, where the 3rd chakra (Magnus Carlsen, Bobby Fischer etc.) dominate, followed by the 1st (Hikaru Nakamura), 4th and 5th chakras.

Chapter 11 - Birth (and name) Numerology

Numbers meaning:

What do the numbers symbolise?

- 1- Will
- 2- Sensitivity and Intuition
- 3- Intellect
- 4- Diligence, Hard work
- 5- Adventurousness, Courage
- 6- Love
- 7- Rationality (Contemplative)
- 8- Ambition
- 9- Humanitarianism, Altruism, Charity

Astrological charts number correspondence to the chakras, planets and emanations.

Emanations and planets are used only when there is no biological chakra it activates/corresponds to remembering there are only 7 chakras, but 9 single digit numbers. I'm exclusively giving the anatomy of the chakras (root, sacrum, solar plexus etc.), since different planets can govern the same chakras. However, for the vast majority of humanity, the birth chakra ordering on page 67 is valid. Black Moon Lilith and Neptune being activated with numbers 8 and 9 is only true in the birth chakra ordering.

- 2- Sacrum
- 3- Solar Plexus
- 4- Heart
- 5- Throat
- 6- Brow
- 7- Crown

Name Numerology

In traditional name Numerology, there is 3 categories of numerological translation (with the English alphabet.)

There is:

- Personality Number (formed from consonants)
- Destiny Number (formed from all letters in your name)
- Soul Urge (formed from the vowels of your name)

These calculations are almost always reduced to a single digit, regardless of whether there is a master number beyond 11. However, if a master number, they should absolutely not be reduced as a single digit, but kept as a double-digit master number.

Furthermore, this book will posit that there are three additional name number calculations:

- Spiritual Urge (formed from the sum of the prior 3 calculations)
- Innermost Urge (formed from the sum of the prior 4 calculations)
- Outermost Urge (Formed from the sum of the prior 5 calculations)

Note- these were created out of necessity, for it is a reality I could find nowhere, and these three numbers form the completed quadrinity of Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost absent in exoteric Numerology. These are not based on the name letters, consonants or vowels, but are abstractions and expansions on these calculated alphabet-numerical sums.

Applied

Under traditional Numerology, the name 'Cornelia' has '2, 3, and 5' for the Personality, Destiny and Soul numbers.

The Spiritual Urge:

The Spiritual Urge is that urge for Spiritual expression and application to the world. This number signifies our ideal mode of Spiritual expression.

The Spiritual Urge formula:

The Spiritual Urge can be calculated by the single number reduction, or master number sum of the Personality, Destiny and Soul numbers.

So

For 'Cornelia'. the Personality, Destiny and Soul numbers of 2, 3 and 5 are summed:

$$2+3+5=10$$

$$10=1+0$$

Thus, the Spiritual urge is 1.

Now, 'Cornelia' has a chronological and linked 1, 2, 3, and 5.

The Innermost urge

The Innermost urge is that still, silent voice that is neither electric (Soul)

or magnetic (Spirit). It is that which Hebrews 4:12 referred to (as part of many infinite fractal symbolic applications) as piercing between the Soul (electric) and the Spirit (magnetic) to come to a (ultimately material, electric for men, material magnetic for women) conclusion. It is highly elusive, never consciously being recognised or categorised by many individuals in their entire lifetime. Indeed, many historical titans, philosophers have attempted to accurately describe it in vain, and many have spent entire lifetimes, never coming into contact with this force, and if they did, it was fleeting at the height of their accomplishment, often spending a lifetime wanting to come into contact with it again.

Innermost Urge formula

The Innermost urge is calculated by the sum of the Personality, Destiny, Soul, and Spiritual numbers. As established for 'Cornelia', these are 1, 2, 3 and 5.

The Innermost Urge for Cornelia would be:

$$1+2+3+5=11$$

11 is the Innermost urge

There is no reduction of 11, since it (alongside 22, and 33) is a Master number. This is a key point since many Numerology systems always reduce master numbers to a single digit, or they state only 11 (and not 22, and 33) counts.

The Outermost Urge:

The Outermost Urge is that desire for reception of an intense influx of external energies from above. It is the urge for union with the external Divine. It is looking outside oneself, above and yearning for connection, input, inspiration and answers when overwhelmed. It too pierces between the Soul and the Spirit, coming to a (ultimately spiritual magnetic for men, spiritual electric for women) conclusion.

The Outermost Urge for Cornelia would be:

$$1+2+3+5+11=22$$

22 is the Outermost Urge.

Therefore, the entire Numerological expression for the name 'Cornelia' is:

1, 2, 3, 5, 11, 22

Which number do you want to amplify?

Any number within ones name Numerology can be amplified through conjunctions in the birth chart, or surname. For example. If Cornelia was born, matured, conceived or first released (encompassing the physical, astral, mental and Innermost charts) in the 11th day, 11th month, or 11th year (when individually summed), then she has the Innermost Urge in conjunction with one of those key numbers, amplifying her Innermost urge and tying it with multiple other expressionary forms.

Applied

If a child is born with these reductions in their 4 astrological charts:

Note- the above birth dates are in the ordering for day, month and year. The year number on the right column is the sum and reduction of the birth year. I.e.

1996 birth

$1+9+9+6=25$

$2+5=7$

The year number becomes 7.

In the above 4 charts, if you want to amplify the Innermost urge (11), you're left with no options, since 11 doesn't appear. If the surname and the combination of the two also doesn't have 11, then the name 'Cornelia' will not have any amplifying conjunct energies, or 'helpers' to link with its Innermost urge.

In this situation, you're left with 1 option-

Choose a different name.

Change the name to make the Innermost urge the same as the relevant birth numbers that you want to accompany your child's Innermost mission.

Birth Chart Numbers?

1. The day number represents the Personality
2. The month represents the Destiny
3. The year represents the Life Path

The ideal name for the birth chart of

If one wanted to amplify the Innermost, there is one key mathematical measure to employ.

Mode- Most common number that appears in a dataset.

For the Birth numbers above, the Mode is 6. 6 also encompasses the Personality, Destiny and Life Path numbers across the 4 astrological charts. So, this conjunction is instantiating multiple different elements and 'helpers' for the child's Innermost alignment and expression. In choosing a name with an Innermost urge of '6', the child will have a combination of Personality, Destiny and Lifepath (twice) in her physical, astral, mental and yes Innermost charts to join forces with her names Innermost urge.

Is the Innermost the most important number?

Certainly, the Innermost is the number closest to Source (within), and immensely important. However, it may not be the highest priority in this lifetime. If you want your child to focus on a Spiritual and morally altruistic life, align the birth chart mode number (particularly the Destiny and Soul urge number) with the names Spiritual Urge. If you want your child to live up to their (grand) Destiny, align the charts Life path number(s) with the names Destiny Urge. Furthermore, it would be wise to determine the 2 Mode numbers through all charts, and choose a name where these are both met since there is usually 2+ recurring numbers in an individuals 4 charts, and 5 numbers in each persons first name. However, and this cannot be underemphasised, caution should be taken following too rational, rigid and non-intuitional an approach.

Why?

Names are given to us by higher forces, and that feeling of 'knowing' many parents have that a certain name is 'right' must be respected, and very often supersede cold analysis. I will elucidate on this more, and give you some tips and strategies toward the end of this chapter.

Birth Chart Numerology

Unlike name numerology with 6 total numbers, the birth chart has 7. There are thus 4 creative innovations. Like the name numbers, these are abstractions calculated based off the previous (exoterically accepted) birth numbers.

Exoterically accepted numbers

Day- Personality

Month- Destiny

Year- Life Path

New number calculations

Soul Number (sum of the previous 3 numbers)

Spiritual Number (sum of the previous 4 numbers)

Innermost Number (sum of the previous 5 numbers)

Outermost Number- (Sum of the previous 6 numbers)

Therefore, birth dates are written as:

5/6/8 (1, 2, 4, 8)

6/2/8 (7, 5, 1, 2)

7/9/7 (5, 1, 2, 4)

6/9/7 (22, 8, 7, 5)

New Master number calculation method-

There is diverse schools of thought regarding whether Master numbers can be used in birth dates. There are two that are most commonly accepted:

Simplified Method

-Add the digits and reduce the total to a single-digit or master number.

3 Cycle Method

-Reduce the day, month, and year individually to the single number or the Master numbers. Then add up these numbers and reduce the total to a single number or a Master number.

However, the new (correct) method:

Add up the day, and month numbers exactly as they are (without a reduction) and add the year number as a reduced single digit/master number. The sum of these will be reduced to a single number, or Master number.

Applied

Under the 'Simplified or 3-cycle method' a birth date of-

15/11/1994

Is summed as

$$6+11+5=22$$

However, the correct method is:

$$15+11+5=31$$

Since 31 is not a master number, it can be reduced to a single digit. Thus, the (correct) Soul urge number is 4 (3+1).

However, In the birthdate of 6/11/1994

$$6+11+5=22$$

Here the Soul Urge Number is Master number 22

This means that the Spiritual urge is (reduced to) 8, the Innermost Urge is 7 and the Outermost Urge is 5.

Written all together the birth date becomes

6/11/1994 (22, 8, 7, 5)

Note, 44, 55, 77 are not master numbers. Master numbers are 11, 12, 13, 22, 33, 66 and 88.

Full table-

Note- the number to the left of the '=', is the first calculated sum, the Soul number. the numbers to the right of the = sign are the Spiritual, Innermost and Outermost urges that must necessarily follow.

4= 8, 7, 5

5= 1, 2, 4

6= 3, 6, 3 (or 33)

7= 5, 1, 2

8= 7, 5, 1

9= 9, 9, 9

Note within this chart, there is a lot of esoteric, philosophical and contemplative meaning. For example. 1 (wills) numerical application to the world, expands into sensitivity, intuition (2), and diligent discipline and thoughtfulness (4) before ultimately applying it into the external world for ambitious/power-based desires (8), when expressed through the Soul urge number. A perfectly logical and interconnected sequence that can be viewed as a blueprint for how to achieve the Souls aims. Reflection will validate this, since will without sensitivity and right intuition will likely lead to disastrous outcomes, and is ideally placed in and expressed through correct discipline determined by premeditated thoughtfulness. Similarly, 7 (intellect, rationality, contemplation) can lead one to an 'ivory tower' mindset if they do not implement those contemplations into reality through action (5), achieved by right use of will (1) and intuitional sensitivity to the market (2) Each of the numbers above can be analysed in a similar way, and there is great meaning revealed through doing so.

Note, in the above list, a Soul Number of 4 and 5 chronologically links the Spirit and Innermost, and the Soul and Outermost. 7 and 2 links the Innermost and Outermost, 8 links the Soul and Spirit, 1 links the Soul and Spirit, and from the first number each subsequent number doubles, without a single number reduction throughout. 3 and 6 are conjunct (repeating the same number) of Soul and Innermost, and Spirit and Outermost. 9 has a conjunction of Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost simultaneously.

Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost correspondences

Soul number- Electricity, Ac for men (Vibration, transverse hertzian wave), Magnetism, Ac for women (Motion, radiational longitudinal wave)

Spirit number- Magnetism, Dc for men (Motion, radiational longitudinal wave), Electricity, Descendant for women (Vibration, transverse hertzian wave)

Innermost number- Di electricity, Mc (Rest, capacity to harness both the transverse hertzian and radiational longitudinal waves but ultimately coming to electricity for men, and magnetism for women)

Outermost number- Di electric, Ic (Rest, capacity to harness both the transverse hertzian and radiational longitudinal waves but ultimately coming to magnetism for men, and electricity for women).

The Divinity of 9

If the sum of the astrological chart is 9, it remains 9 for the Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost simultaneously (even for when the Lifepath number is 99).

For example:

6/3/1989

or, reduced-

$6+3+9=9$

$9+9= 9$ (Reduction of 18)

$9+9= 9$ (Reduction of 27)

$9+9= 9$ (Reduction of 36)

Therefore-

6/3/9 (9, 9, 9, 9)

In all numbers, the Soul, Spiritual, Innermost and Outermost urges are never simultaneously the same, except for 9. Therefore, having this as your quadrinity of Soul, Spirit Innermost and Outermost simultaneously is a Divine blessing, a conjunction of electricity, magnetism and Di electricity experienced simultaneously without doubling, reducing, or being made a Master number. That is, the entire atom (protons, electrons and neutrons) is activated simultaneously without division. These types will seem other worldly, always seeking to bring darkness (Soul) to the light (Spirit), to become conscious of it and wisely handle it referencing Divinity within (Innermost) and without (Outermost).

“One does not become enlightened by imagining figures of light, but by making the darkness conscious.”

-Carl Jung

For the ‘(9, 9, 9, 9)’ types, this happens automatically, and they can’t fathom why it doesn’t happen for everyone else. That is, why others have a split between their Soul, Spirit, innermost and Outermost and can’t effortlessly reconcile these through four-fold simultaneous conjunction. If an individual has a 9 in his day, month or year number, then this combines with the conjunctive quadrinity of Soul, Spirit, Innermost and Outermost with a Personality, Destiny, and/or Life path number.

It's therefore worthy to note that it's possible to have all 6 numbers as 9.

9/9/9 (9, 9, 9, 9)

Regrettably, I have never seen this, but what a Divine, transcendent, lucid combination this individual possesses. This individual would have 4 additional astrological charts with different numerical expressions to balance the one sidedness of the birth chart out. I suspect, therefore, that this individual would be predominately astral, mental and Innermost in outward expression (of astrological charts). A suspicion since I think this individual may receive negative feedback from others throughout their developmental life stages (particularly childhood and adolescence).

Intuitive naming (Name and Birth Numerology)

‘That person sounds like their name’

‘That person doesn’t sound like their name’

‘John seems more like a Bob’.

The phenomenon of one not ‘seeming’ like their name is usually found in individuals who’ve translated their birth name to a new language, or chosen a new name entirely.

It is worth remembering, our names are frequently assigned through suggestion to parents by invisible forces. When a parent ‘misspells’ their child’s name on the birth certificate, this too is likely Divinely guided, for every letter counts and one difference can completely change the numerology.

‘That person seems like their name’

In the name 'Cornelia', when calculating the vowels, consonants and all the letters you have 3 numbers (2, 3, 5).

Thus, in a birth chart of:

You will find that, for some odd, perplexing, intuitively sound reason, this child 'seems like their name'. People will not be able to pinpoint, or rationally explain why, but it will be an intuitional certainty.

Chapter 12 - Star seeds and Astro-Psycho-Numerology

Star Seeds Numerology

Sirius- 3/6/9/33

Reptilian- 1/5/8

Pleiadean- 2/9/11/22

Lyran- 1/5/11

Orion- 1/4/8/22

Venus- 6/9/12/33

Blue Avian- 7/9/11

Grays- 4/6/7

Anunnaki- 22/4/8

The idea of star seeds is that ones Soul originates (prior to being incarnated into flesh) from a distinct star, constellation or planet. Just as each person has 4 astrological charts (Natal, Quickening, Conception, Innermost), each person has varied star seed numerological expressions in each 4 of those charts.

How can we therefore determine what (singular) star seed someone is?

If one is Sirian in their physical chart, perhaps there is 3, 6, 9, or 33s in their birthday (and whose 4 successive sums add up to one of these 4 numbers) and perhaps your name does too, then you are, definitively, the all-encompassing expression of the Sirian star seed, and therefore Sirian.

However, what about the 3 remaining charts?

That is the astral, mental and Innermost. What if there's 4 distinct star seeds in each?

Applied

When entering into different spheres of consciousness (be it the Mental, Astral, or Innermost) you will notice within yourself distinct numerical and star seed expressions. This is why teachers say 'you may be x star seed, but you may have also had lifetimes on y, z, a, b and c.' If a Sirian has his mental chart with 1, 5, and 8 replete through a charts 7-fold numerical expression (which includes Soul, Spiritual, Innermost and Outermost urges) then they're a definitive Reptilian star seed. If their quickening has 22, 11, and 2s, they're Lyran. If their Innermost has 22, 4, 8, this is more aligned with the Anunnaki star seed. In this case, there is 4 distinct star seeds defining 4 centres of an individuals consciousness. The reality, however, is it very quickly becomes infinitely fractal and nearly impossible to delineate when you look at 4 astrological charts of 7 numbers each (28 in total), and 4 name charts (first name, middle names, last name and the total name) with 6 numbers each, (24) in total and therefore 52 distinct numerological expressions. The prior example showed 4 definite star seeds in 4 charts. Most people have multiple star seeds numerical expressions (not aligning with a complete encompassment of a definitive one) in just one chart. This means that in just the physical natal perception of the world they're influenced by 2+ distinct star seeds concurrently in accordance with each numbers expression. Thus, it must necessarily follow that the vast majority of humanity have a minimum of 8 star seed expressions totalling across 4 astrological charts and 4 separate names (First, middle, surname and total name).

For example:

In the physical natal (Birth chart) perception of the world they're influenced by 3 separate star seeds concurrently in accordance with each numbers expression.

In a natal chart of

4/8/8 (2, 4, 8, 7)

With a name of Cornelia (1, 2, 3, 5, 11, 22)

What is this child's star seed?

This child's star seed is entirely impossible to determine, since the numbers, in either the name or the birth chart, don't conform with any one definitive star seed in its complete numerological expression. Looking at one's most repeated numbers across all 4 charts is likely going to shed light on the situation, but in still a great number of cases, this will not lead to a singular conclusion, but rather 4 differing conclusions for each astrological chart. Furthermore, 'Cornelia' also has a middle, last name and total name.

What are you saying? What is the point of all this?

Ones Soul 'star seed' is not determined numerologically at all, but by ones same sex chromosome.

The numbers serve only to influence the expression of the Soul, so in the physical world a Soul may be (partially, mostly or completely) Sirian, in the mental world Blue Avian, etc. but this is only in expression of that particular facet of consciousness.

Fundamentally-

You do not have 4 separate Souls, but one Soul expressing through 4 different spheres of consciousness.

Thus, a 'Pleiadean' could be born with a natal chart of Possessing no Pleiadean numbers, and still be a 'Pleiadean star seed'.

Astro-Psycho-Numerology

For those who have not read ‘Model R: A New Theory on Socionics’ the first part of this will not resonate, but I have left it to show what can be gleamed through its comprehension. I will briefly elucidate how one is able to look at people through multiple conceptual lenses synergistically. That is to look through the lens of esoteric psychology (Socionics), numerology, and astrology to fundamentally comprehend and gain insight into the inner depths of oneself, and others.

To correctly analyse one with Astro-Psycho-Numerology requires 3 things.

- 1) Personality Sociotype (Socionics)
- 2) 4 astrological Charts
- 3) Birth and Name Numerology

If one is a Socionics INFp, you can automatically know which brain regions are particularly active and how that differentiates them from other Sociotypes (thanks to Dr. Dario Nardis EEG brain scans). You can know they fundamentally perceive the structural elements of Time (Intuition) and Energy (Feeling) to the highest depth and with the highest skill and proficiency. You can also know that they therefore in contradistinction, perceive Space and Matter with the weakest depth and proficiency. You can know which Information Elements (be it Extraverted Intuition, Introverted Sensing etc) they perceive consciously and unconsciously. You can know who they’re most compatible with (Intertype Relations). Through introspective application, you can contemplate and discover the exceptions unique and individual to your particular personality type, and that there's no universal symmetric application of relationships i.e. an INFp tends to dominate their 'supervisor' the ENTj, the INTj tends to dominate their 'Quasi identical' even though, theoretically, one is to be dominated by their supervisor, and there should be an equal relationship between quasi identical relationships. You can infer that their Soul, that Eatheric individuality inhabiting the flesh self is reflected through their inherent cognitive preferences ('Sociotype'). You can know whether they're right-hemispheric leading and therefore perception based, or left-hemispheric judgement based. You can therefore know, that an individual with his most powerful brain hemisphere in his auxiliary/creative function, is at a significant disadvantage across life compared with one who has his dominant hemisphere as his lead/dominant function. However, that individual has his 5 dimensional 'evolution'/'expansive' (Demonstrative) function in his strongest hemisphere which counteracts the other negative effects.

This is but a fractal of the many deductions one can instantly make from knowing ones own Sociotype. This knowledge and its correct interpretation are paramount to wisely inform ones career, love, friendships and many other aspects of life. Misalignment with these facts will be unmistakable and palpable with horrifying consequences.

Equally, ones 4 astrological charts, with their unique and specific Sabian degrees provide a complete and entire blueprint for ones Soul and Spiritual karma and directive for the Dharma, Moksha for the current life. It is also a profound indicator of ones past lives. Yes, it is the 'blueprint' instantiated through previous lifetimes, indicative of ones stage of evolution and consciousness. We previously established that if ones Sun is in a mutable sign, then they perceive the material distribution of Love/Wisdom through unconscious unity. If their Ac is in a fixed sign then their Soul and Spirit expresses itself through conscious duality perception. If one has multiple unconscious signs in their chart, then they're unconscious in their expression of these planetary Rays (be it Truth, Physical development, Intellect, Devotion, Illumination, Will etc, sacred or non sacred). Through knowledge of their Chakra personality type (both right-hemisphere and left-hemisphere), you can know whether their most dominant chakra is governed by a planet that is the right element (air, water and Eather being right-hemispheric, and fire and earth being left-hemispheric), and if it is you can know whether it is operating with + polarity, that is whether it is in rulership, exalted or in Joy, or whether it's a – polarity, detriment or fall. You can know the precise degree to which one is conscious, unconscious etc. on the level of sign, essential dignity, and planet. For self-analysis you can know all of these details when applied to your other 3 astrological charts, the Innermost, astral and mental. You can know that if you're perceiving through unconscious duality (Ophiuchus) you must be in the sidereal chart and mode of consciousness. You can know in that case that you're tuned to the Ophiuchus element, magnetic Eather.

If one knows ones names numerology, they can discover their Personality Number (formed from consonants), Name Number (formed from all letters in your name), Soul Urge (formed from the vowels of your name), Spiritual Urge (formed from the sum of the prior 3 numbers), Innermost Urge (formed from the sum of the prior 4 numbers) and Outermost Urge (formed from the sum of the prior 5 numbers). If one knows their birth numerology dates, they can know their Personality number (The day), the Destiny number (the month number) and the Life path number (year number) as well as the Soul number (sum of the previous 3 numbers), Spiritual Number (sum of the previous 4 numbers), Innermost number (sum of the previous 5 numbers) and Outermost number (sum of the previous 6 numbers). You can use the correct Master number method for accurately determining their Soul, spiritual and Innermost urges.

What I love about these, is they allowed me to answer something I wondered as a child:

'What's it like to be another person? What's it like to be in their mind?'

You can also synergise these frameworks. For example, if one is predominantly unconscious in their natal chart (but not the astral or mental chart) then they're operating from the Id and Super id blocks in Socionics, since by definition these two categories and states of consciousness can only be activated in the unconscious. The ignoring function, as compared with the Lead function, is its opposite. So, an INFp with a predominately mutable (unconscious) birth chart will express himself primarily through not Ni (Introverted Intuition) but Ne (Extraverted Intuition). If one has predominately Fire signs in their Natal, I will know that regardless of where Energy (Feeling) function is placed in their personality cognitive ordering, that Feeling will be predominately expressed. Their birth date itself provides a Numerological expression for their Soul expressions operating format. I know if one has a birth date of 1/5/8 (and all reductions of these numbers i.e. $1+9=1$ since $1+9$ is 1) that that individual and Soul has heightened Reptilian tendencies. They may not be the Reptilian star seed, since this is determined by ones biological same sex chromosome, but it does influence the way they operate and function in the aspect of life this chart represents (be it mental, emotional, or physical). Thus if you want to want to explore these parts about yourself more deeply, knowing your Soul blueprint as laid out by Divinity, knowing your Socionics sociotype, which structural elements of life you primarily perceive, which personality types you're most compatible with (for friendship, romance, business etc.), which star-seed numbers you're influenced by and express in this lifetime, and even an analysis for which star seed you are (which can be done through separate means) these frameworks are all illuminating.
